Pissarro Neo Impressionism And The Spaces Of The Avant Garde:

Pissarro, Neo-Impressionism, and the Spaces of the Avant-Garde Martha Ward, 1996-07 Martha Ward tracks the development and reception of neo impressionism revealing how the artists and critics of the French art world of the 1880s and 1890s created painting's first modern vanguard movement Paying particular attention to the participation of Camille Pissarro the only older artist to join the otherwise youthful movement Ward sets the neo impressionists individual achievements in the context of a generational struggle to redefine the purposes of painting She describes the conditions of display distribution and interpretation that the neo impressionists challenged and explains how these artists sought to circulate their own work outside of the prevailing system Paintings Ward argues often anticipate and respond to their own conditions of display and use and in the case of the neo impressionists the artists relations to market forces and exhibition spaces had a decisive impact on their art Ward details the changes in art dealing and chronicles how these and new freedoms for the press made artistic vanguardism possible while at the same time affecting the content of painting She also provides a nuanced account of the neo impressionists engagements with anarchism and traces the gradual undermining of any strong correlation between artistic allegiance and political direction in the art world of the 1890s Throughout there are sensitive discussions of such artists as Georges Seurat and Paul Signac as well as Pissarro Yet the touchstone of the book is Pissarro's intricate relationship to the various factions of the Paris art world Neo-Impressionism and Anarchism in Fin-de-Siècle France Robyn Roslak, 2017-07-05 In Neo Impressionism and Anarchism in Fin de Siècle France Robyn Roslak examines for the first time the close relationship between neo impressionist landscapes and cityscapes and the anarchist sympathies of the movement's artists She focuses in particular on paintings produced between 1886 and 1905 by Paul Signac and Maximilien Luce the neo impressionists whose fidelity to anarchism to the art of landscape and to a belief in the social potential of art was strongest Although the neo impressionists are best known for their rational and scientific technique they also heeded the era's call for art surpassing the mundane realities of everyday life By tempering their modern subjects with a decorative style they hoped to lead their viewers toward moral and social improvement Roslak's ground breaking analysis shows how the anarchist theories of Elis Reclus Pierre Kropotkin and Jean Grave both inspired and coincided with these ideals Anarchism attracted the neo impressionists because its standards for social justice were grounded like neo impressionism itself in scientific exactitude and aesthetic idealism Anarchists claimed humanity would reach its highest level of social and moral development only in the presence of a decorative variety of nature and called upon progressive thinkers to help create and maintain such environments The neo impressionists who primarily painted decorative landscapes therefore discovered in anarchism a political theory consistent with their belief that decorative harmony should be the basis for socially responsible art "Visions of the Industrial Age, 1830-1914" Amy Woodson-Boulton, 2017-07-05 Providing a comprehensive interdisciplinary assessment and with a particular focus on expressions of tension and anxiety about modernity this collection examines visual culture in nineteenth century Europe as it attempted to redefine itself in the face of social change and new technologies. Contributing scholars from the fields of history, art, literature, and the history of science investigate the role of visual representation and the dominance of the image by looking at changing ideas expressed in representations of science, technology, politics, and culture in advertising, art periodicals, and novels. They investigate how during the period new emphasis was placed on the visual with emerging forms of mass communication: photography, lithography, newspapers, advertising, and cinema. While older forms as varied as poetry, the novel, painting, interior decoration, and architecture became transformed, the volume includes investigations into new innovations and scientific development such as the steam engine, transportation, and engineering, the microscope, spirit photography, and the orrery, as well as how this new technology is reproduced in illustrated periodicals. The essays also look at more traditional forms of creative expression to show that the same concerns and anxieties about science, technology, and the changing perceptions of the natural world can be seen in the art of Armand Guillaumin, Auguste Rodin, Gustave Caillebotte, and Camille Pissarro in colonial nineteenth century novels, in design manuals, in museums, and in the decorations of domestic interior spaces.

Visions of the Industrial Age, 1830-1914 offers a thorough exploration of both the nature of modernity and the nature of the visual. Visions of the Industrial Age, 1830-1914 Minsoo Kang, Amy Woodson-Boulton, 2008. Diverse and wide ranging, the essays collected here examine nineteenth century visual culture as European culture redefined itself embracing political and social change yet expressing tensions and anxieties about modernity. Scholars of history, art, the history of science, and literature combine forces to investigate the role of visual representation by looking at changing ideas expressed in representations of science, technology, politics, and culture in advertising, art periodicals, and novels.

Decentering European Intellectual Space, 2018-05-15. Decentering European Intellectual Space challenges the conventional view of intellectual history as a debate over the interpretation of a limited number of texts produced by a small group of prominent scholars, writers, and intellectuals from the cultural centers of Europe. Addressing the question, "What is European intellectual space?" this collection of essays seeks to demonstrate how this space is shaped, ordered, and communicated between Europe's fluctuating cores and peripheries. Focusing on the asymmetrical relations between large and small centers and peripheries, cores and margins, in scholarly and other forms of interaction and within Europe as well as globally, the volume brings forth a variety of trajectories and strategies developed by intellectuals outside the culturally dominant centers. Contributors are David Cottingham, Narve Fuls, Tommaso Giordani, Marja Jalava, Zsfia Lrand, ukasz Mikoajewski, Diana Mishkova, Stefan Nyg, rd, Emilia Palonen, Manolis Patiniotis, Johanna Rainio, Niemi, Tore Rem, Jos Mar, a Rosales, and Johan Strang.

In this engaging new study, Claire White reveals how representations of work and leisure became the vehicle for anxieties and fantasies about class and alienation, affecting in turn the ways in which writers and artists understood their own cultural work. Critical Readings in Impressionism and Post-Impressionism Mary history may well be modern it is without doubt one of the most overworked adjectives in the English language But the indeterminacy is perhaps just another way of saying that the difficulties raised are of a kind which simply will not go away This collection of eight essays on aspects of modernity and modernism takes up the challenge of examining the complex but fascinating convergence of aesthetics politics and a quasi spiritual dimension which is perhaps typical of British modernist thinking about modernity This may have produced figures whom we now dismiss as eccentrics or aesthetes it none the less produced figures whom many still think of as in some sense embodying the national identity what after all could be more English than a William Morris wallpaper design Rather than towards socialism in any of its scientific guises what the British modernist approach to modernity may have been pushing at was yet another mutation of liberalism a libertarian humanitarian hybrid in which indigenous radical and Evangelical legacies keep scientific socialism in check where fellowship and domesticity edge out a larger scale more abstract fraternity and where citizenry or civisme give way to what George Orwell was later to define simply as decency
