Pivot Of Violence Tales Of The New South Africa:

Flakes of Dark and Light Roy Holland, 2001-02-28 The title Flakes of Dark and Light is evocative of the sharp flakes of insight and colour which characterise these tales. The tales in the first part mostly depict an African setting and in fact are more recent, often suggesting the climate of change and violence that has gripped southern Africa in the last two decades. The stories in the second part were inspired by a more English tradition and in fact capture the climate of change that brooded over life during the Thirties and the war years. A contemporary of Ted Hughes and with many of his stories set in the depressed, sometimes seedy England of the Thirties and Forties which Graham Greene depicted in his early novels, it's not surprising that Roy Holland's images and sentences are like flakes that cut like broken glass. A true artist, he does not take sides but holds up a mirror to show life as it is, whether in a pre-war England or an Africa ravaged by drought and violence. His tales are snapshots, truthful, sometimes startling, of two quite distinct cultures. However disparate they may seem, one is invariably aware of an underlying tenderness and sympathetic vision in the portrayal of character, regardless of race or background, that binds them together.

Pivot of Violence Roy Holland, 2000 In these stories, which make an important contribution to the literary heritage of South Africa, the author brings together the atmosphere of violence and change that broods over the harsh world of the old Apartheid South Africa and which still threatens the stability of the New South Africa. Perspectives of both white and black are explored, perspectives of the victims rather than the oppressors, where the victims are from both sides of the cultural divide. But the harsh realities are ameliorated by a vein of sympathetic insight, sometimes by a gentle comedy, such as that which portrays a pipe-smoking priest or by a tongue-in-cheek satire as is found in the tale of a well-to-do white woman who is methodically and meticulously covered by her lover's semen. The author has written a quartette of stories, the other three titles of the quartette being News from Parched Mountain, Tales from the Karoo in the new South Africa, Flakes of Dark and Light, Tales from Southern Africa and Elsewhere and Just a Bit Touched. Tales of Perspective All make a very vivid and lasting impression.

The Waking & Making of Paul Gauguin Roy Holland, 2008 It was during his illness in 1887 when Gauguin was 39 years old that the battle dramatised in this play, a battle imagined in his body and in his mind and in his moral nature, could have taken place.

Just a Bit Touched Roy Holland, 2000-12 The title for this volume was suggested by a remark of the narrator in the opening paragraph of the first story, The Arcadian. They're just a bit touched, bonkers, like. While the characters might appear a bit touched, each tale is touched by its own perspective, since each reflects the point of view of its unique narrator. So often the England of the Thirties or Forties is seen through the eyes of a child, so that Dickens-like, the foibles and characteristics of the adult world appear larger than life. These early stories are interesting too for the historical perspective they give us of an Andy Capp industrial society long since gone. There are other stories written from the perspective of the Fifties, the two stories dealing with motor cars, The Efelant and Egging on, add a more amusing perspective of a time when petrol was dear and neighbours more than a bit touched by curiosity. The stories written in Africa with its latent social change Victims for instance add a more violent perspective though hilarity is introduced by the expatriot in It Was A Very Sad Case who seems more than a bit touched by his paranoia The author has written a quartette of stories the other three titles of the quartette being News from Parched Mountain Tales from the Karoo in the new South Africa Flakes of Dark and Light Tales From Southern Africa and Elsewhere and Pivot of Violence Tales from the new South Africa All make a very vivid and lasting impression The Nowhere Man Roy Holland,2008 A young man in Birmingham in the sixties escapes the humdrum mundanity of life through fantasies tries to find himself and finally escapes his dead end lifestyle by gaining a place at a university Alan Paton Speaking Roy Holland,2008-08 This interview with Alan Paton by Roy Holland has never until now been published The interview took place on June 19 and June 20 1973 when Holland was a guest in Paton s home Lintrose at Bothas Hill Kloof Natal It provides many insights into Paton s life his political involvement as the founder of the Liberal party in South Africa and his writings Journey Towards Himself Roy Holland,2008-07 A hilarious evocation of life as a student at Cambridge University in the sixties shortly after the time of such notable figures as F R Leavis C S Lewis and E M Forster Now Lead Me Home Roy Holland,2008-07 In this third book of the Jonathan Three the experiences conveyed by the protagonist s stream of consciousness place the reader in the mind of the young man who eventually finds real love and meaning in a fulfilling relationship Stories ,1990 New South African Outlook ,2003 A Christian ecumenical magazine for thinkers and decision makers The Welensky Story Garry Allighan,1962 South African Art Now Sue Williamson,2011-05-17 Described by international curator Okwui Enwezor as one of the most dynamic and vigorous spaces of artistic practice contemporary South African art is an exciting emerging scene that is attracting the attention of international museums curators and collectors today South African Art Now documents through in depth essays and stunning full color photographs the remarkable work of nearly one hundred South African artists working in every medium from painting sculpture and video to cutting edge performance art This lush volume includes the impressive work of art world stars such as William Kentridge and Marlene Dumas newly prominent artists such as Berni Searle Robin Rhode and Mustafa Maluka and exciting newcomers still unknown outside their own country but clearly marked for success This book covers forty years of art history from the dark years of apartheid which saw the rise of resistance art to the long awaited achievement of freedom in 1994 to the present day struggles for reconciliation and transformation Through it all the engaged powerful work of these artists provided a mirror for society Including a compelling foreword by Nobel Prize winning writer Nadine Gordimer South African Art Now is a must have resource for collectors curators and anyone interested in the pulse of international contemporary art The Theatre of Violence Don H. Foster,Paul Haupt,Marésa De Beer,2005 This profound and deeply compassionate study aims to reach into the complexities of political violence and to expand our understanding of the patterns of conflict that almost drew South Africans into a vortex of total disintegration during the apartheid era While many accounts have focused on the victims of state repression this unique volume documents the often contradictory and confusing stories of those who acknowledge having committed some dreadful deeds Individuals on various sides of the apartheid divide from state security structures to the ANC PAC and grassroots activists tell their own stories The authors also offer the first critical examination of the TRC s amnesty process show how media representations of perpetrators inform public perceptions and scrutinise international scholarly reflection on the issue of political violence Munsey's Magazine ,1897 Munsey's Magazine for ... ,1897 The Literary World ,1887
