Places In Art:

Art Schools and Place Silvie Jacobi, 2020-06-15 Art education has a definite impact on artists sense of place and their spatial relations Exploring where and why artists choose to locate is the first step in describing an art scene ethnographically This research considers coming to and going through art school as a crucial inter subjective learning environment Artists learn not just to engage with place through spatial and relational practices but gain a sense of mobility and transnational flows in a globalized art world This book is the first time the art school has been studied this way in the nascent field of art geography blending the tool kits of human geography and urban studies This is timely against the backdrop of worldwide university closures of physical space and cost intensive fine art courses as a triumph of managerialism and business case over education This volume helps highlight how investment in this form of education has an important capacity for nurturing art scenes and feeding into the community at large

Arts in Place Cara Courage, 2017-02-03 This interdisciplinary book explores the role of art in placemaking in urban environments analysing how artists and communities use arts to improve their quality of life It explores the concept of social practice placemaking where artists and community members are seen as equal experts in the process Drawing on examples of local level projects from the USA and Europe the book explores the impact of these projects on the people involved on their relationship to the place around them and on city policy and planning practice Case studies include Art Tunnel Smithfield Dublin an outdoor art gallery and community space in an impoverished area of the city The Drawing Shed London a contemporary arts practice operating in housing estates and parks in Walthamstow and Big Car Indianapolis an arts organisation operating across the whole of this Midwest city This book offers a timely contribution bridging the gap between cultural studies and placemaking It will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners working in geography urban studies architecture planning sociology cultural studies and the arts

The Place of God in Piers Plowman and Medieval Art Mary Clemente Davlin,2001 Very few poets except the authors of the Hebrew Scriptures and the New Testament have tried to write in any extended way about God Even Dante confines his vision of Christ and the Trinity to a few passages at the end of Paradiso and most religious lyric poets concentrate more on their own attitudes and reactions to God their prayer longing repentance suffering or joy than on the nature of God Among English poems three narratives Piers Plowman Paradise Lost and Paradise Regained are exceptional in their extensive explicit poetry about god and their direct concern with the mysteries of Biblical faith This work looks at Piers Plowman confronting not only the alterity of culture resulting from a lapse of almost 700 years but also the more profound alterity of the subject matter Places in Art Anthea Peppin,1991-01-01 Examines the way various artists depict different places in their works and describes how to use such techniques as perspective light details and color Information Arts Stephen Wilson,2003-02-28 An introduction to the work and ideas of artists who use and even influence science and technology A new breed of contemporary artist engages science and technology not just to adopt the vocabulary and gizmos but to explore and comment on the content agendas and possibilities Indeed proposes Stephen Wilson the role of the artist is not only to interpret and to spread scientific knowledge but to be an active partner in determining the direction of research Years ago C P Snow wrote about the two cultures of science and the humanities these developments may finally help to change the outlook of those who view science and technology as separate from the general culture In this rich compendium Wilson offers the first comprehensive survey of international artists who incorporate concepts and research from mathematics the physical sciences biology kinetics telecommunications and experimental digital systems such as artificial intelligence and ubiquitous computing In addition to visual documentation and statements by the artists Wilson examines relevant art theoretical writings and explores emerging scientific and technological research likely to be culturally significant in the future He also provides lists of resources including organizations publications conferences museums research centers and Web sites
