Plus Psychology:

Mindsapes Martin Carrier, Peter Machamer, 2014-03-26 Leading scholars in the fields of philosophy and the sciences of the mind have contributed to this newest volume in the prestigious Pittsburgh Konstanz series Among the problem areas discussed are folk psychology meanings as conceptual structures functional and qualitative properties of colors the role of conscious mental states representation and mental content the impact of connectionism on the philosophy of the mind and supervenience emergence and realization Most of the essays are followed by commentaries that reflect ongoing debates in the philosophy of the mind and often develop a counterpoint to the claims of the essayists International Directory of Psychology Benjamin B. Wolman, 2013-03-09 In the past several decades psychology has grown so rapidly in many countries that no one has been able to keep up to date on more than a handful of countries To be sure the highly developed countries of North America Western Europe Japan and Australia have generally had well known national psychological societies for most of this century and considerable information about their universities and institutes has been published at one time or another But even in these more highly developed countries the rapid changes of recent years are not well known In any event what information has been published is scattered so widely that it is hardly accessible when needed Still less well known is the growth of psychology in the developing countries of Latin America Asia and Africa and at least for Western readers even the modern nations of Eastern Europe and the Soviet Union are relatively unknown Only recently have most Western psychologists become aware of the fact that psychology as they know it is provincial With more than half of the world's highly trained psychologists in Canada and the United States which together devote far more of their national resources to psychological research than is true of any other countries in the world it is not surprising that the North American journals psychological associations institutes clinics and other manifestations of psychology have completely dominated the field at least until recently Applied Psychology Horst Gundlach, 1998 Now available as single volumes as well as in a 13 volume set the rare proceedings collected here were originally published between 1920 and 1958 This set documents international activity in applied psychology between the wars and during the post War reestablishment of international scientific collaboration The proceedings of each Congress are reproduced with a short individual preface discussing their content and import Psychology, 1933 Philosophy and psychology pamphlets, 1888 *Christian Psychology: ...
