Realism In European Literature:

Realism in European Literature Nicholas Boyle, Martin Swales, 2010-11-25 The essays in this collection which was originally published in 1986 address fundamental issues of literary realism that have long been given prominence by J P Stern the distinguished writer on German literature and author of the seminal study On Realism In the prevailing theoretical climate problems associated with literary realism assumed great urgency Such problems are the notion of literary truth to life the survival of the concept of realism in the light of modern hermeneutical theory the perspective adopted by the contemporaries of Barthes and inheritors of Nietzsche on the canonical prose writers of the nineteenth century and the future for an exegetical tradition represented in the work of Erich Auerbach On Realism J. P. Stern, 2021-12-16 First published in 1973 On Realism is a comprehensive introduction to the complex problem of literary realism Written from both a critical and philosophical perspective the book brings together the concrete study of literary cases and the conceptual analysis of the terms used in describing them It uses examples drawn from a wide range of European literature and engages in philosophical discussion to argue for a richer and freer sense of the concept than was more commonly in favour at the time of writing The book describes the literary forms of realism as an art of the middle distance and sets out its character and value against alternatives and distortions symbolism naturalism socialist realism faits divers and the literature of language consciousness On Realism will appeal to those with an interest in literary history the history of literary theory and literature and philosophy Socialist Realism in Central and Eastern European Literatures Under Stalin Evgeny Dobrenko, 2018-02-15 Socialist Realism in Central and Eastern European Literatures is the first published work to offer a variety of alternative perspectives on the literary and cultural Sovietization of Central and Eastern Europe after World War II and emphasize the dialogic relationship between the centre and the satellites instead of the traditional top down approach The introduction of the Soviet cultural model was not quite the smooth endeavour that it was made to look in retrospect rather it was always a work in progress often born out of a give and take with the local authorities intellectuals and interest groups Relying on archival resources the authors examine one of the most controversial attempts at a cultural unification in Europe by providing an overview with a focus on specific case studies an analysis of distinct particularities with attention to the patterns of negotiation and adaptation that were being developed in the process The Age of Realism Frederick William John Hemmings, Giovanni Carsaniga, 1978-01-01 Realism Damian Grant, 2019-01-30 First published in 1970 this book provides an introduction to literary realism After considering what realism is and its philosophical roots it goes on to examine the emergence of the idea of realism in nineteenth century France and its gradual spread across the wider republic of letters This work will be of interest to those studying nineteenth century European literature Realism in European Literature György Lukács, A History of European Literature Walter Cohen, 2017-01-19 Walter Cohen argues that the history of European literature and each of its standard periods can be illuminated by comparative consideration of the different literary languages within Europe and by the ties of European literature to world literature World literature is marked by recurrent systematic features outcomes of the way that language and literature are at once the products of major change and its agents Cohen tracks these features from ancient times to the present distinguishing five main overlapping stages Within that framework he shows that European literatures ongoing internal and external relationships are most visible at the level of form rather than of thematic statement or mimetic representation European literature emerges from world literature before the birth of Europe during antiquity whose Classical languages are the heirs to the complex heritage of Afro Eurasia This legacy is later transmitted by Latin to the various vernaculars The uniqueness of the process lies in the gradual displacement of the learned language by the vernacular long dominated by Romance literatures That development subsequently informs the second crucial differentiating dimension of European literature the multicontinental expansion of its languages and characteristic genres especially the novel beginning in the Renaissance This expansion ultimately results in the reintegration of European literature into world literature and thus in the creation of todays global literary system The distinctiveness of European literature is to be found in these interrelated trajectories Concepts of Realism Luc

Herman,1996 Examination of the critical discourse on the literary movement of realism Concepts of Realism surveys the central episodes in the development of the discourse surrounding realism from its inception with substantial reference to developments in the United States It concentrates on modernism and the avant garde as hostile to the realist movement but more positive critics of the concept such as Erich Auerbach and Joseph Stern also receive ample treatment Studies in

European Realism György Lukács,1964 European Literature from Romanticism to Postmodernism Martin

Travers,2006-06-15 European Literature from Romanticism to Postmodernism is an anthology of key theoretical writings by the major representatives of the schools and movements of recent European literature Each chapter is devoted to one particular school of movement from within the broad body of literature from romanticism realism and modernism though to the literature of political engagement of the 1920s and 1930s and the more recent initiative of postmodernism These texts are approached both on their own terms as individual formulations of the goals and procedures literary aesthetic and political that characterized the work of these writers and as key documents of the literary school or movement to which these writers belonged An Introduction to Modern European Literature Martin Travers,1997-11-24 Each chapter concludes with a detailed chronology of the major literary texts of each movement covering fiction drama and poetry Cover engaged with Realism in general and to the wider reading public of nineteenth century fiction The contributors are Martin Bott Helen Chambers Patricia Howe David Jackson Edward McInnes Peter Skrine Martin Swales and Mark Ward

Realism Pam Morris, 2004-06-02 Coming to prominence with the nineteenth century novel literary realism has most often been associated with the insistence that art cannot turn away from the more sordid and harsh aspects of human existence However because realism is unavoidably tied up with the gnarly concept of reality and the real it has been one of the most widely debated terms in the New Critical Idiom series This volume offers a clear reader friendly guide to debates around realism examining ideas of realism in nineteenth century French and British fiction the twentieth century formalist reaction against literature's status as truth realism as a democratic tool or utopian form This volume is vital reading for any student of literature in particular those working on the realist novel Realism, 2003 The Best of Modern European Literature (Heart of Europe) Klaus Mann, Hermann Kesten, 1943 American Literary Realism, 1870-1910, 1988
