Reason In Pastoral Counseling:

Reason in Pastoral Counseling Paul A. Hauck, 1972 The Heart of Pastoral Counseling Richard L Dayringer, 2013-04-03

The relationship between pastor and parishioner is the essence of pastoral counseling a simple truth with profound implications Dr Richard Dayringer explores these implications in The Heart of Pastoral Counseling Healing Through Relationship Revised Edition to help pastoral counselors understand how to use the relationship to bring about the desired ends in the therapeutic process Drawing on research from the disciplines of psychiatry psychology marriage counseling family therapy and pastoral counseling this book lays the foundation for utilizing the pastoral counseling relationship to bring about positive change as it explores topics such as observation listening communication handling transference and termination of therapy Because the interpersonal relationship is the vehicle of therapy it is critical that pastoral counselors understand the psychological assumptions that play a large part in the characteristics of relationships as well as the factors requiring attention in order to establish a secure counseling relationship The Heart of Pastoral Counseling will help you attain this understanding as you also improve your knowledge on how pastoral relationships may be applied outside the therapeutic hour in general pastoral work eclectic methods for clarifying feelings developing intellectual insight interpreting questioning and assigning certain behavior employing the problem oriented record in pastoral counseling distinguishing relationship from transference and countertransference the unique problem that counseling acquaintances presents personality traits that attract people to the minister pastoral counselor counselor attitudes that foster relationship how a client's view of the counselor has an impact on the effectiveness of therapy The Heart of Pastoral Counseling brings a solid base of research to pastoral counselors seminary students graduate students in counseling professors of counseling and specialists in pastoral psychotherapy so that you might better understand the nature of pastoral counseling relationships and how they are helpful and constructive in people's lives You will be challenged to rethink your role in initiating and carrying out therapeutic change and realize why you should build your ministry on relationships rather than on friendships The Professionalization of Pastoral Care T. Dale Johnson Jr., 2020-07-21 When the organization and structure of the church in America was altered in the early 1900s to meet modern demands the role of the pastorate became more specialized to adapt to the burdens of the new efficient structure In 1920 Gaines Dobbins utilized the business efficiency model at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary to formulate a distinct ecclesiology Discontent with traditional methods of instruction in theological education Dobbins sought to implement theories and methodologies from modern educationalists He adopted a psychologized educational methodology and utilized the psychology of religion as an empirical measure of the soul human nature and human behavior Use of the social sciences seemed to grant Dobbins as a practitioner academic respectability within the realm of theological education Both the professionalization that resulted from Dobbins's efficiency standards and a working theory of human nature derived from psychological models were synthesized into a specialized system of pastoral care Dobbins followed the new shape of pastoral theology in America adopting Clinical Pastoral Education CPE as the model for pastoral training As a result CPE became an integral part of the curriculum at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary for over sixty years and spread to influence many other SBC entities Solution-Focused Pastoral Counseling Charles Allen Kollar,2011-05-03 An original effective and time saving approach that benefits pastors overtaxed by counseling demands fully updated and expanded Professional counselor and pastor Dr Charles Allen Kollar found that counseling does not need not be long term or depend on psychological manipulation to produce dramatic results In most cases the solution lies with the counselees themselves Using the tested methods found in Solution Focused Pastoral Counseling pastors apart from counselors will be well equipped to help their counselees discover a solution and put it in motion speedily and productively Institute healthy change by helping the counselee see and work on the solution with God s activity already present in his her life create solutions with not for the counselee Solution Focused Pastoral Counseling does not require the counselor to be a highly trained psychological expert It requires biblically based sensitivity and common sense Yet this approach also recognizes its limitations and understands that there are situations in which other professional and or medical help is required This book reveals the possibility of life without the problem through an understanding of what is different when the problem does not occur or is less intrusive Theology and Pastoral Counseling Deborah van Deusen Hunsinger,1995 This volume lays out an important new interdisciplinary approach to the relationship between theology and psychology in the work of pastoral counseling setting forth a method emerging from a Barthian theological perspective Pastoral Counseling: A Ministry of the Church John H. Patton,2002-08-27 Pastoral counseling is unique and John Patton widely known practitioner and teacher explains that uniqueness in the context of other forms of therapy available He then determines what pastoral counseling is and how it is done His theory focuses on the centrality of the pastoral relationship reclaiming pastoral counseling as a legitimate ministry of the church He shows that the pastoral relationship is common to both the generalist and the specialist in counseling and explains how his concept of relational humanness is the norm for Christian pastoral counseling The accountability of the pastoral counselor in regard to the story of Jesus in terms of his her role and function as minister and in relation to the community the church which ordains and the peers in ministry is discussed How to structure a pastoral counseling interview how to determine the unit of care and how healing occurs in pastoral counseling are all important facets of this excellent book Case studies an index and notes are included A Pastoral Counseling Guidebook Charles F. Kemp,1971 Pastoral Counseling ,1981-01-01 In the contemporary church pastors take on many roles One of the most important roles a pastor must play is that of counselor However this isn t always a natural fit for every pastor In this creative and readable book Wayne Oates offers a definitive argument for the history and future necessity of pastoral counseling The Context of Pastoral Counseling Seward Hiltner,Lowell G. Colston,1961 PASTORAL COUNSELING Edward D. Andrews,2024-06-27 PASTORAL COUNSELING Skillful Counselors Are a Blessing

Importance of making available pastoral counseling as a competence course for cross-cultural missionary trainees Abiodun Olalekan Owoade, 2023-10-06 Academic Paper from the year 2022 in the subject Theology Practical Theology course PhD in Intercultural Studies IN View language English abstract The purpose of this study is to make the readers examine and understand the importance of making available Pastoral Counseling as a competence course for missionary trainees that will be working among the unreached people group Missionary trainers and agencies often design their training with a profile of an effective missionary in mind Intercultural training programs are increasing in importance Intercultural competence is an extremely complex phenomenon and a combination of different training methods seems desirable because combining different training approaches makes optimal use of their advantages while compensating for their shortcomings A missionary is someone who has been trained and sent on a mission preaching the good news about the birth life death resurrection and ascension of Jesus to Heaven Pastor is a shepherd of the flock someone with a divine mandate spiritual authority to watch over the spirit body and souls of people Being a graduate of theological seminary missionary institute doesn't automatically make one become a pastoral counselor It will take some level of training in pastoral counselling for a pastor missionary to earn the title Pastoral Counsellor The pastoral counselor must be a trained therapist pastor or missionary that has been saddled with the responsibility of using the bible as the main tool in helping people individual and family to come to realization of possible options to attained a balanced life One of the biggest responsibilities of training institutions is to help people develop the ability to respond appropriately to diversity in society Furthermore educators can contribute solutions to issues associated with unsuccessful intercultural interactions internationally Providing instructions on how to interact appropriately with people from other cultures is essential and the development of effective intercultural and Pastoral Counseling training programs is urgent give how he can give it and other such questions If in stating this point of view the author seems dogmatic at times it is because of his desire to put the situation clearly and sharply Either the general point of view or specific statements made in the book may be tested by any pastor The only limitations to experimentation in this field are the pastors inherent regard for personality and desire to do nothing that would injure another person The aim of the book is not to try to describe what a pastor without proper training can do The author has a great deal of sympathy for the pastor who feels that his training has been woefully inadequate to the demands made on him in his daily ministry However he does not know how to give easy answers that make up for the lack of training He is rather trying to describe in this book what the pastor should have training to do He is well acquainted with the obstacles in the way of giving such training to pastors and theological students but he also sees real grounds for optimism in regard to future training This book grows out of a long background of experience as chaplain in a mental hospital as a counselor in a Y M C A and a Y W C A as the director of a counseling service for a large city council of churches as a minister in charge of pastoral counseling in a large city parish and as a member of the faculty of a theological school Much of this material has been given in lectures to ministers It has been tested in various situations
