Rebecca Binder Spatial Dynamics:

Rebecca Binder ,1999 In Binder s most recent projects there continues to be a systematic rigor of several levels but also a movement toward a looser more intuitive idiosyncratic architecture Architectural Publications Index ,2001 L'Arca ,2002 Contemporary World Architects ,1995 Solar and Space Physics National Research Council,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Aeronautics and Space Engineering Board,Space Studies Board,Committee on a Decadal Strategy for Solar and Space Physics (Heliophysics),2013-09-26 From the interior of the Sun to the upper atmosphere and near space environment of Earth and outward to a region far beyond Pluto where the Sun s influence wanes advances during the past decade in space physics and solar physics the disciplines NASA refers to as heliophysics have yielded spectacular insights into the phenomena that affect our home in space Solar and Space Physics from the National Research Council s NRC s Committee for a Decadal Strategy in Solar and Space Physics is the second NRC decadal survey in heliophysics Building on the research accomplishments realized during the past decade the report presents a program of basic and applied research for the period 2013 2022 that will improve scientific understanding of the mechanisms that drive the Sun s activity and the fundamental physical processes underlying near Earth plasma dynamics determine the physical interactions of Earth s atmospheric layers in the context of the connected Sun Earth system and enhance greatly the capability to provide realistic and specific forecasts of Earth s space environment that will better serve the needs of society Although the recommended program is directed primarily at NASA and the National Science Foundation for action the report also recommends actions by other federal agencies especially the parts of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration charged with the day to day operational forecast of space weather In addition to the recommendations included in this summary related recommendations are presented in this report Antoine Predock, Architect 4 Antoine Predock,2006 Albuquerque based Antoine Predock is generally acknowledged as the premier architect practicing in the Southwest although he also has projects in Denmark France Spain and Morocco He is known for a philosophical ethos that does not privilege architecture over environment but fosters a relationship in which a building is analogous to the landscape in which it is set Predock s use of such natural materials as adobe and sand colored stone demonstrate an appreciation for local historical precedent as well as a concern for environmental soundness however he is in the vanguard in his use of the most technologically advanced methods of construction Drawing from the pulse of the land Predock s work embraces uniqueness of site referencing local history culture myths and people This monograph features his latest work including Highland Ponds in Aspen Austin City Hall in Texas the Tacoma Art Museum and Shadow House in Santa Fe among others Antoine Predock has taught at universities in Italy and Argentina as well as at Harvard University Southern California Institute of Architecture and UCLA He has won many awards for his work including the Rome Prize of the American Academy in Rome National Honor Awards from the American Institute of Architecture AIA and the Gran Premio Internacional de Arquitectura de Buenos Aires

Architecture Plus Design LA Michael Webb, 2000 We've tried to create a compact up to date guide to all the places and things a design oriented visitor might want to see in a week as well as a handy black book for residents says Michael Webb The goal was to distill the essence of a vast and confusing city into a slim volume that you could carry around in your pocket or purse This text refers to the Paperback edition Selective guide to the best designed buildings interiors and artifacts in greater Los Angeles district by district

Books In Print 2004-2005 Ed Bowker Staff, Staff Bowker, Ed, 2004 Herbert Lewis Kruse Blunck Herbert Lewis Kruse Blunck, 2001 The architecture of the Herbert Lewis Kruse Blunck firm based in Des Moines Iowa stands out for the distinctly urban nature of its impeccable functionalism and the way it knits neatly into the fabric of the city This approach allows the architecture to affirm its own identity slipping into the dynamic of modern day architecture through a carefully gauged design idiom

A Story to Save Your Life Sarah Bishop, 2022-08-16 Winner 2023 OHA Book Award Oral History Association A young woman flees violence in Mexico and seeks protection in the United States only to be trafficked as a domestic worker in the Bronx A decorated immigration judge leaves his post when the policies he proudly upheld capsize in the wake of political turmoil A Gambian translator who was granted asylum herself talks with other African women about how immigration officers expect victims of torture to behave A border patrol officer begins to question the training that instructs him to treat the children he finds in the Arizona desert like criminals Through these and other powerful firsthand accounts A Story to Save Your Life offers new insight into the harrowing realities of seeking protection in the United States Sarah C Bishop argues that cultural differences in communication shape every stage of the asylum process playing a major but unexamined role Migrants fleeing persecution must reconstruct the details of their lives so governmental authorities can determine whether their experiences justify protection However Bishop shows many factors influence whether an applicant is perceived as credible from the effects of trauma on the ability to recount an experience chronologically to culturally rooted nonverbal behaviors and displays of emotion For asylum seekers harnessing the power of autobiographical storytelling can mean the difference between life and death A Story to Save Your Life emphasizes how memory communication and culture intertwine in migrants search for safety

Paradoxes , What makes written words so special to the brain? Gui Xue, Urs Maurer, Mohamed L Seghier, 2015-01-22 Reading is an integral part of life in today's information driven societies Since the pioneering work of Dejerine on word blindness in brain lesioned patients the literature has increased exponentially from neuropsychological case reports to mechanistic accounts of word processing at the behavioural neurofunctional and computational levels tapping into diverse aspects of visual word processing These studies have revealed some exciting findings about visual word processing including how the brain learns to read how changes in literacy impact upon word processing strategies and whether word processing mechanisms vary across different alphabetic logographic or artificial writing systems Other studies have attempted to characterise typical and atypical word processes in special populations in order to explain why dyslexic brains struggle with words how multilingualism changes the way our brains see words and what the exact developmental signatures are that would shape the acquisition of reading skills Exciting new insights have also emerged from recent studies that have investigated word stimuli at the system network level by looking for instance at how the reading system interacts with other cognitive systems in a context dependent fashion how visual language stimuli are integrated into the speech processing streams how both left and right hemispheres cooperate and interact during word processing and what the exact contributions of subcortical and cerebellar regions to reading are The contributions to this Research Topic highlight the latest findings regarding the different issues mentioned above particularly how these findings can explain or model the different processes mechanisms pathways or cognitive strategies by which the human brain sees words The introductory editorial summarising the contributions included here highlights how varieties of behavioural tests and neuroimaging techniques can be used to investigate word processing mechanisms across different alphabetic and logographic writing systems

College Belonging Lisa M. Nunn,2021-02-12 College Belonging reveals how colleges and universities efforts to foster a sense of belonging in their students are misguided Colleges bombard new students with the message to get out there and find your place by joining student organizations sports teams clubs and the like Nunn shows that this reflects a flawed understanding of what belonging is and how it works Drawing on the sociological theories of Emile Durkheim College Belonging shows that belonging is something that members of a community offer to each other It is something that must be given like a gift Individuals cannot simply walk up to a group or community and demand belonging That s not how it works The group must extend a sense of belonging to each and every member It happens by making a person feel welcome to feel that their presence matters to the group that they would be missed if they were gone This critical insight helps us understand why colleges push for students simply to get out there does not always work

Social Movements and Organization Theory Gerald F. Davis,Doug McAdam,W. Richard Scott,Mayer N. Zald,2005-05-09 Although the fields of organization theory and social movement theory have long been viewed as belonging to different worlds recent events have intervened reminding us that organizations are becoming more movement like more volatile and politicized while movements are more likely to borrow strategies from organizations Organization theory and social movement theory are two of the most vibrant areas within the social sciences

This collection of original essays and studies both calls for a closer connection between these fields and demonstrates the value of this interchange Three introductory programmatic essays by leading scholars in the two fields are followed by eight empirical studies that directly illustrate the benefits of this type of cross pollination The studies variously examine the processes by which movements become organized and the role of movement processes within and among organizations The topics covered range from globalization and transnational social movement organizations to community recycling programs
