

An abstract painting of a face, rendered in a style reminiscent of Vincent van Gogh. The face is composed of thick, textured brushstrokes in shades of yellow, orange, and red, set against a dark, swirling background of blues, purples, and greys. The eyes are dark and intense, and the mouth is a vibrant red. The overall effect is one of intense emotion and psychological depth.

a landmark study of one of England's and America's most innovative and revolutionary poets Michael Nott chronicles for the first time Gunn's largely undocumented life his childhood in Kent and London his mother's suicide and his mind opening education at Cambridge where he read Shakespeare and John Donne wrote his first book Fighting Terms and met the man who was to become his life partner Mike Kitay In his mid twenties Gunn followed Kitay to America and became one of the great poet documenters of San Francisco's queer culture capturing both the hippie mentality of the time and his own visceral experience of sex drugs and loss Through the eighties and beyond Gunn found himself in the midst of the AIDS crisis recording its catastrophic impact in The Man with Night Sweats poems that provide too its most poignant epitaph Gunn was not a confessional poet but inseparable from his rigorous formal poetry was a ravenous embracing of life and an acute awareness of death Michael Nott co editor of The Letters of Thom Gunn draws on letters diaries notebooks interviews and Gunn's poetry to bring us a vivid portrait of a great literary mind sexual rebel and queer icon
