Rebordering Of North America Integration And Exclusion In A New Security Context:

The Rebordering of North America Peter Andreas, Thomas J. Biersteker, 2003 The first book to explore the implications of September 11th and the new war on terrorism for border controls cross border relations and economic integration in North America focusing on the US Mexico and US Canada borders

Grenzkontrollen jenseits nationaler Territorien Lena Laube, 2013-11 Die Globalisierung fordert liberale Staaten heraus ihre Grenzen auf gestiegene Mobilität einzurichten International vergleichend untersucht Lena Laube wo heute Grenzkontrollen in einer entgrenzten Welt zu finden sind Ihre Studie beleuchtet damit einen wichtigen Aspekt globalisierter Politik die Exterritorialisierung von Grenzen Begründungen staatlicher Akteure für diesen Wandel geben Einblick in die staatliche Strategie die Mobilität von Personen jenseits der eigenen Territorien zu steuern Dabei zielt die Verlagerung der Kontrollorte nicht nur auf Abschottung sondern auch gerade in Europa auf Freizügigkeit gegenüber willkommenen Personen

North American Regionalism Eric Hershberg, Tom Long, 2023-12 North American Regionalism problematizes North America as an important region in its own right breaking with the area studies convention that divides the Global North and Global South portions of the Western Hemisphere at the US Mexican border By cutting across this division the theoretically sophisticated essays in this volume yield new insights about politics society and the economy of North America opening dialogues with the New Regionalism approach and the literature on comparative regional studies Drawing on a six year interdisciplinary collaboration among leading scholars from Canadian Mexican US and European universities the book brings North America back into International Relations study of regions and regionalism The book includes robust theoretical and empirical engagement with issues of trade migration security energy and climate and the rise of China

Women and Change at the U.S.-Mexico Border Doreen J. Mattingly, Ellen R. Hansen, 2022-06-21 There's no denying that the U S Mexico border region has changed in the past twenty years With the emergence of the North American Free Trade Agreement NAFTA the curtailment of welfare programs and more aggressive efforts by the United States to seal the border against undocumented migrants the prospect of seeking a livelihood particularly for women has become more tenuous in the twenty first century In the face of the ironic juxtaposition of free trade and limited mobility this book takes a new look at women on both sides of the border to portray them as active participants in the changing structures of life often engaging in political struggles The contributions including several chapters by Mexican as well as U S scholars examine environmental and socioeconomic conditions on the border as they shape and are shaped by both daily life at the local level and the global economy The contributors focus on issues related to migration both short and long term empowerment especially reflecting shifts in women's consciousness in the workplace and political and social activism in border communities The chapters consider a broad range of topics such as the changing gender composition of the maquiladora work force over the past decade and border women's non governmental organizations and political activism In most of the studies both sides of the border are considered to provide insights into differences created by an international boundary and similarities produced by cross border interactions Together these chapters show the border region to be a dynamic social economic cultural and political context in which women face both obstacles and opportunities for change and make clear the vital role that women play in shaping the border region and their own lives This collection builds on Susan Tiano and Vicki Ruiz s groundbreaking volume Women on the U S Mexico Border by continuing to show the human face of changes wrought by manufacturing and militarization By illustrating the current state of social science research on gender and women s lives in the region it offers fresh perspectives on the material reality of women s daily lives in this culturally and historically rich region

Constructing Borders/Crossing Boundaries Caroline Brettell, 2008-01-01 The essays in this volume tackle the construction and significance of race and ethnicity as boundary making processes among diverse immigrant populations in the United States Race and ethnicity can both unite and divide The individual scholars contributing to this volume model deploy and explain notions of borders and boundaries in various ways but collectively they emphasize the fluidity of racial and ethnic identities that are shaped negotiated and contested in specific contexts and situations Constructing Borders Crossing Boundaries also captures the range of spaces in which ethnicity and race become salient the university the immigrant enclave the detention center the work place the nightclub and even the trans Atlantic passage This interdisciplinary work features essays on a diverse range of immigrant populations from past to present and will interest scholars from across disciplines

Constructing Borders/Crossing Boundaries , Critical Policy Studies Michael Orsini, Miriam Smith, 2011-11-01 Traditional definitions of public policy in Canada have been challenged in recent years by globalization the transition to a knowledge based economy and the rise of new technologies Critical Policy Studies describes how new policy problems such as border screening and global warming have been catapulted onto the agenda in the neo liberal era The book also surveys the recent evolution of critical approaches to policy studies which have transformed decades old issues Contributors conceptualize the ways in which public policy questions cut across the traditional fields of policy They cover both topical approaches such as Foucauldian and post empiricist analysis and new applications of established perspectives such as political economy Conventional methodologies reveal new connotations when used to explore such topics as security issues Canadian sovereignty welfare reform environmental protocol Aboriginal policy and reproductive technologies Critical Policy Studies provides an alternative to existing approaches to policy studies and will be welcomed by scholars students and practitioners of political science and public policy

Transnational Representations of the U.S. Borderlands. Outlaw Women in Contemporary "Border Cinema" Jeanette Gonsior, 2019-10-14 Master s Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject American Studies Miscellaneous grade 1.0 Humboldt University of Berlin Department of English and American Studies language English abstract The Mexican Revolution of the 1910s alone is considered to have inspired some hundreds of border films mostly documentaries and docudramas The Mexican film industry has a nearly equally long history of representing the U S Mexico borderlands According to Norma

Iglesias Prieto one of the leading scholars in the field of Mexican border cinema more than 300 border films were produced in Mexico between 1936 and 1996 By the 1930s Mexican producers were beginning to view the border as a profitable theme for Mexico's national film industry Iglesias Prieto 1998 Referring to Iglesias Prieto's classic book length study Entre yerba polvo y plomo Lo fronterizo visto por el cine mexicano 1991 Fregoso argues that Mexico produced 147 border films in the decade between 1979 and 1989 alone cp 2003 Charles Ramirez Berg also points to a boom in cine fronterizo in the 1980s Border films have flourished on the lowest end of the economic and aesthetic Mexican moviemaking scale for decades The narcotraficante film a Mexican police genre is the most popular Pathogens for War Donald H. Avery, 2013-04-28

Pathogens for War explores how Canada and its allies have attempted to deal with the threat of germ warfare one of the most fearful weapons of mass destruction since the Second World War In addressing this subject distinguished historian Donald Avery investigates the relationship between bioweapons poison gas and nuclear devices as well as the connection between bioattacks and natural disease pandemics Avery emphasizes the crucially important activities of Canadian biodefence scientists beginning with Nobel Laureate Frederick Banting at both the national level and through cooperative projects within the framework of an elaborate alliance system Delving into history through a rich collection of declassified documents Pathogens for War also devotes several chapters to the contemporary challenges of bioterrorism and disease pandemics from both national and international perspectives As such readers will not only learn about Canada's secret involvement with biological warfare but will also gain new insights into current debates about the peril of bioweapons one of today's greatest threats to world peace Canadian and Mexican Security in the New North America Queen's University.
