Markov Chains and Invariant Probabilities Onesimo Hernandez-Lerma, Jean B. Lasserre, 2003-02-24 This book is about discrete time time homogeneous Markov chains Mes and their ergodic behavior To this end most of the material is in fact about stable Mes by which we mean Mes that admit an invariant probability measure To state this more precisely and give an overview of the questions we shall be dealing with we will first introduce some notation and terminology Let X be a measurable space and consider a X valued Markov chain $\{X_k\}_{k=0}^\infty$ with transition probability function $p_{ij}(x) = P\{X_{k+1} = j | X_k = x\}$ for each $x \in X$ and $k \geq 0$ The Me is said to be stable if there exists a probability measure μ on B such that $\int_B p_{ij}(x) \mu(dx) = \mu(j)$ holds then μ is called an invariant p m for the Me or the t p f P

Torsions of 3-dimensional Manifolds Vladimir Turaev, 2012-12-06 Three dimensional topology includes two vast domains the study of geometric structures on 3 manifolds and the study of topological invariants of 3 manifolds knots etc This book belongs to the second domain We shall study an invariant called the maximal abelian torsion and denoted T It is defined for a compact smooth or piecewise linear manifold of any dimension and more generally for an arbitrary finite CW complex X The torsion $T(X)$ is an element of a certain extension of the group ring $\mathbb{Z}[H_1(X)]$ The torsion T can be naturally considered in the framework of simple homotopy theory In particular it is invariant under simple homotopy equivalences and can distinguish homotopy equivalent but non homeomorphic CW spaces and manifolds for instance lens spaces The torsion T can be used also to distinguish orientations and so called Euler structures Our interest in the torsion T is due to a particular role which it plays in three dimensional topology First of all it is intimately related to a number of fundamental topological invariants of 3 manifolds The torsion $T(M)$ of a closed oriented 3 manifold M dominates determines the first elementary ideal of $H_1(M)$ and the Alexander polynomial of $H_1(M)$ The torsion $T(M)$ is closely related to the cohomology rings of M with coefficients in \mathbb{Z} and $\mathbb{Z}/r\mathbb{Z}$ It is also related to the linking form on $Tors H_1(M)$ to the Massey products in the cohomology of M and to the Thurston norm on $H_2(M)$

Subgroup Growth Alexander Lubotzky, Dan Segal, 2012-12-06 Award winning monograph of the Ferran Sunyer i Balaguer Prize 2001 Subgroup growth studies the distribution of subgroups of finite index in a group as a function of the index In the last two decades this topic has developed into one of the most active areas of research in infinite group theory this book is a systematic and comprehensive account of the substantial theory which has emerged As well as determining the range of possible growth types for finitely generated groups in general and for groups in particular classes such as linear groups a main focus of the book is on the tight connection between the subgroup growth of a group and its algebraic structure A wide range of mathematical disciplines play a significant role in this work as well as various aspects of infinite group theory these include finite simple groups and permutation groups profinite groups arithmetic groups and Strong Approximation algebraic and analytic number theory probability and p adic model theory Relevant aspects of such topics are explained in self contained windows
