Reality And Empathy:

Conceptualising Immersive Journalism Ana Luisa Sánchez Laws, 2019-09-11 This book presents the history of virtual reality and its introduction into journalism exploring the challenges posed by pushing to make the experience of news a full body event The problem of interpretation versus objectivity is discussed as well as the associated ethical responsibilities Immersive journalism offers the vicarious reliving of a news event with the full body through virtual reality technologies As virtual reality devices become more accessible major news organizations such as the New York Times The Guardian Al Jazeera CNN and many more are starting to experiment with this new form of journalism This book discusses theoretical issues significant to immersive journalism s goal of using virtual reality to transport audiences into a news site These include ethical issues concerning image manipulation and the place of the audience s body in the presentation of a news event To approach these issues the book presents foundational concepts of VR technologies that have helped establish the achievability of being virtually present in a simulated reality as well as current research about immersive media s manipulative potential Using a case based analysis of how immersive journalism clashes or coincides with the goals of journalism in democratic societies the book examines the possibilities and ethics of such experiences in journalism and news Original and intellectually provocative Conceptualizing Immersive Journalism is an important study of this emerging field for students scholars and researchers in the areas of Journalism and Media Studies Promises, Pedagogy and Pitfalls:

Empathy's Potential for Healing and Harm Pam Morrison, Quanta Gauld, Veronica Wain, 2019-07-22 This volume was first published by Inter Disciplinary Press in 2016 The nature of empathy its potential for healing and harm and its potency to effect change for good or ill at inter personal ecological and global levels are key themes represented in this interdisciplinary volume Section one looks at physiological and philosophical roots of empathy exploring neurological factors as well as the question of human selfhood in relation to the other The notion of wrong empathy then comes under scrutiny where the potential for empathic responses to upturn moral codes is examined This leads into a focus on the written word with exploration of written text and the act of writing on empathic responses The scope is widened in the final sections to focus on ways to teach empathy and potential global effects of expanded empathic awareness Amidst critical challenges facing humanity today it poses the crucial question how can we find more peaceful communion with those whose differences we fear
