The Restoration Economy Storm Cunningham, 2002-11-02 A landmark work I was relieved to see that there is a good and reasonable solution to the ruinous policies of unbridled new development Mark Stewart CEO iAccess Communications The Restoration Economy reveals the previously undocumented trillion dollar global industries that are restoring our natural and manmade environments Restorative development is rapidly overtaking new development because we are running out of things to develop Most natural areas are already either farmed or degraded and cities have built all the way to their borders However there is no lack of things to redevelop and restore Storm Cunningham surveys the wide range of restoration industries and points out the connections among them He shows for example how the restoration of a river ecosystem can have a major impact on the commercial success of a redeveloped historic urban waterfront Written for a broad range of audiences The Restoration Economy is an entertaining blend of business science and economics that details exciting new business and investment opportunities in this dynamic economic sector Any companies or consultants looking for new markets must read The Restoration Economy Pamela J Gordon CMC President Technology Forecasters Inc The Restoration Economy is required reading here at Weston Solutions It has been indispensable in helping us refocus our strategy Bill Robertson Chairman Weston Solutions The Restoration Economy is without a doubt the most important and valuable business book I have read in many years Don Pross Urban Revitalization Planner This book is an original a first I profited from it greatly and I quote from it in my speeches William H Hudnut III Former Four Term Mayor of Indianapolis

Conflict, Postwar Rebuilding and the Economy Gilles Carbonnier, 1998 The objective of this paper is to provide a critical overview of the economic literature on conflicts and postwar reconstruction since the end of the Cold War Despite the enormous human and economic costs of war in the developing world the contributions of economists to research in this area are still surprisingly sparse and limited even if commitment to remedying this has been increasing It is true that economic research on war torn countries runs in particular methodological difficulties Substantial effort and innovative approaches are thus required to cope more effectively with the challenges of socioeconomic rebuilding Publisher's description
