Recent Developments In Ceramic Petrology Occasional Paper 81:

Materiality, Techniques and Society in Pottery Production Daniel Alberó Santacreu, 2014-01-01 Daniel Alberó Santacreu presents a wide overview of certain aspects of the pottery analysis and summarizes most of the methodological and theoretical information currently applied in archaeology in order to develop wide and deep analysis of ceramic pastes. The book provides an adequate framework for understanding the way pottery production is organised and clarifies the meaning and role of the pottery in archaeological and traditional societies. The goal of this book is to encourage reflection especially by those researchers who face the analysis of ceramics for the first time by providing a background for the generation of their own research and to formulate their own questions depending on their concerns and interests. The three-part structure of the book allows readers to move easily from the analysis of the reality and ceramic material culture to the world of the ideas and theories and to develop a dialogue between data and their interpretation. Daniel Alberó Santacreu is a Lecturer Assistant in the University of the Balearic Islands, member of the Research Group Arqueo UIB and the Ceramic Petrology Group. He has carried out the analysis of ceramics from several prehistoric societies placed in the Western Mediterranean as well as the study of handmade pottery from contemporary ethnic groups in Northeast Ghana. The Oxford Handbook of Archaeological Ceramic Analysis Alice M. W. Hunt, 2017. This volume draws together topics and methodologies essential for the socio-cultural, mineralogical and geochemical analysis of archaeological ceramic, one of the most complex and ubiquitous archaeomaterials in the archaeological record. It provides an invaluable resource for archaeologists, anthropologists and archaeological materials scientists. Microfacies of Carbonate Rocks Erik Flügel, 2004. Accompanying CD-ROM contains an alphabetical list of about 14 000 references on carbonate rocks and visual comparison charts for percentage estimation. p. vi.

Sasanian and Islamic Settlement and Ceramics in Southern Iran (4th to 17th Century AD) Seth M. N. Priestman, Derek Kennet, 2023-10-31. This monograph comprises the final publication of a study supported by the British Institute of Persian Studies and undertaken by Seth Priestman and Derek Kennet at the University of Durham. The work presents and analyses an assemblage of just under 17 000 sherds of pottery and associated paper archives resulting from one of the largest and most comprehensive surveys ever undertaken on the historic archaeology of southern Iran. The survey was undertaken by Andrew George Williamson 1945-1975, a doctoral student at Oxford University between 1968 and 1971, at a time of great progress and rapid advance in the archaeological exploration of Iran. The monograph provides new archaeological evidence on the long-term development of settlement in Southern Iran, in particular the coastal region from the Sasanian period to around the 17th century. The work provides new insights into regional settlement patterns and changing ceramic distribution, trade and use. A large amount of primary data is presented covering an extensive area from Minab to Bushehr along the coast and inland as far as Sirjan. This includes information on a number of previously undocumented archaeological sites as well as a detailed description and analysis of the ceramic finds which underpin the settlement evidence and provide a wider source of reference By collecting carefully controlled archaeological evidence related to the size distribution and period of occupation of urban and rural settlements distributed across southern Iran Williamson aimed to reconstruct the broader historical development of the region Due to his early death the work was never completed The key aims of the authors of this volume were to do justice to Williamson s remarkable vision and efforts on the one hand and at the same time to bring this important new evidence to ongoing discussions about the development of southern Iran through the Sasanian and Islamic periods
