Sally Faulkner,2013-04-11 A History of Spanish Film explores Spanish film from the beginnings of the industry to the present day by combining some of the most exciting work taking place in film studies with some of the most urgent questions that have preoccupied twentieth century Spain It addresses new questions in film studies like prestige film and middlebrow cinema and places these in the context of a country defined by social mobility including the 1920s industrial boom the 1940s post Civil War depression and the mass movement into the middle classes from the 1960s onwards Close textual analysis of some 42 films from 1910 2010 provides an especially useful avenue into the study of this cinema for the student Uniquely offers extensive close readings of 42 films which are especially useful to students and teachers of Spanish cinema Analyses Spanish silent cinema and films of the Franco era as well as contemporary examples Interrogates film s relations with other media including literature pictorial art and television Explores both auteur and popular cinemas Establishes prestige and the middlebrow as crucial new terms in Spanish cinema studies Considers the transnationality of Spanish cinema throughout its

Spanish Cinema Peter William Evans, 1999 The liveliness and importance of Spanish cinema is increasingly being recognised outside Spain in film festivals television exposure and courses in Institutions of Higher Education To a large extent this is auteur or art movie cinema Spanish Cinema concentrates upon that tradition focusing upon the key films in a period stretching from 1952 to the present day The term auteur has lately fallen into disrepute The idea most actively promoted by Cahiers du Cinema in the late 1950s and early 1960s that the director is to a film what an author is to a poem play or novel has been subjected to much criticism since structuralist and post structuralist attacks on the author But even in pre death of the author days film raised its own specific problems about authorship Nevertheless since the initial excitement of French critical theory's provocative assault on conventional notions of authorship and taking into account specific problems related to the collaborative nature of film making attempts have recently been made to reclaim some of the ground lost by the author in these critical and theoretical battles This volume offers lively readings of films by key directors working to a large extent in the art movie auteurist field and aims to strike a balance between representative films directors and periods Each chapter concentrates on a single film discussing it in accessible critical language that takes account both of the distinctiveness of film as an art form and of the material and socio historical contexts in which each film was made
