Men Teaching Children 3-11 Elizabeth Burn, Simon Pratt-Adams, 2015-11-19 Men Teaching Children 3 11 provides a comprehensive exploration of work experiences of men who teach young children The authors draw on their own research as well as international studies to provide realistic strategies to help to remove barriers in order to develop a more gender balanced teacher workforce Burn and Pratt Adams former primary school teachers who have both experienced these unfair gender practices also trace the historical roots of the gender barriers that have now become embedded within the occupational culture Throughout Men Teaching Children 3 11 the authors argue that primary school teachers should be judged by their teaching talents rather than by the application of biased gender stereotypes and that male and female teachers need to work together to remove these stereotypes from the occupation

Women and the Shaping of the Nation's Young Mary Hilton, 2007 Researchers have neglected the cultural history of education and as a result women's educational works have been disparaged as narrowly didactic and redundant to the history of ideas Mary Hilton's book serves as a corrective to these biases by culturally contextualising the popular educational writings of leading women moralists and activists including Sarah Fielding Hester Mulso Chapone Catherine Macaulay Mary Wollstonecraft Hannah More Sarah Trimmer Catharine Cappe Priscilla Wakefield Maria Edgeworth Jane Marcet Elizabeth Hamilton Mary Carpenter and Bertha von Marenholtz Bulow Over a hundred year period from the rise of print culture in the mid eighteenth century to the advent of the kindergarten movement in Britain in the mid nineteenth a variety of women intellectuals from strikingly different ideological and theological milieux supported embellished critiqued and challenged contemporary public doctrines by positioning themselves as educators of the nation's young citizens Of particular interest are their varying constructions of childhood expressed in a wide variety of published texts including tales treatises explanatory handbooks and collections of letters By explicitly and consistently connecting the worlds of the schoolroom the family and the local parish to wider social religious scientific and political issues these women's educational texts were far more influential in the public realm than has been previously represented Written deliberately to change the public mind these texts spurred their many readers to action and reform

The Eighteenth Century, 1996 Maria Spilsbury (1776-1820) Charlotte Yeldham, 2010 Maria Spilsbury Taylor 1776 1820 lived and worked in London and Ireland and was patronized by the Prince Regent A painter of portraits genre scenes biblical subjects and large crowd compositions an unusual feature in women's art of this period she is represented in major museums and art galleries as well as in numerous private collections Her work hitherto considered on a purely decorative level merits closer attention For the first time this volume argues the relevance of Spilsbury's religious background and in particular her evangelical and Moravian connections to the interpretation of her art and examines her pervasive and often covert references to the Bible hymnody and religious writing The art that emerges is distinctly Protestant and evangelical offering a vivid illustration of the mood of patriotic Protestant fervour that characterized the quarter century succeeding the French revolution This focus may be situated in the general context of increasing interest in the religious faith of historical actors men and women in the eighteenth century and in the related contexts of growing acknowledgement of a religious aspect to enlightenment art as well as investigations into Protestant culture in Ireland The book is extensively illustrated and contains a list of all of Spilsbury's known works Education, Research and Perspectives ,2006 New Zealand Journal of Educational Studies ,2003 Journal of the Royal Australian Historical Society Royal Australian Historical Society,2003 Includes the Society's Annual report and statement of accounts Florenz Adele Schopenhauer, Waltraud Maierhofer,2007
