Canadian Perspectives on the Sociology of Education Cynthia Levine-Rasky, 2009. This collection of original essays examines the complex relationship between schooling and society. By taking a critical approach, the text urges readers to formulate difficult questions about the practice of teaching and the experience of schooling. The text also illustrates the multiple forces that come into play for both educators and for students and challenges the reductive and pragmatic approach adopted in conventional education courses.

Men and Masculinities in Europe Keith Pringle, 2006. This book reviews the state of knowledge on men and masculinities between ten European countries, emphasising both the differences and the similarities between them. The volume draws upon the outcomes of a recently completed major research exercise undertaken by network funded by the European Commission funded Research Network on Men in Europe. It contains contributions by some of Europe's leading scholars in the field. Special emphasis is placed on four key themes: home and work, social exclusion, violence and health. There is also a particular focus on the fundamental changes taking place in Central and Eastern Europe in the post-socialist period and to the questions of politics and ethnicity in contemporary Europe. Addressing politics, policy and analysis around men and masculinities in relation to these and other matters is an immensely urgent task not only for European and Trans-European political structures but also for European societies themselves. In the past, masculinity and men's powers and practices were taken for granted. Gender was largely seen as a matter of and for women. This is now changing in the face of rapid but contradictory social change. This book will be essential reading for anyone, whether academic, policymaker or concerned citizen, who wishes to understand these social processes and their implications for the societies of Europe.
