This volume features theological considerations towards such topics as the Incarnation of Jesus Christ and, along with the Sacraments and other important topics that we often take for granted in our thinking in the church and in worship towards God. Doors to the Sacred Joseph Martos, 2001 A work of major importance written for an ecumenical audience. Doors to the Sacred is a sweeping and detailed account of the historical and cultural evolution of sacramental rituals and practices. Since its initial publication, the book has garnered widespread critical acclaim and has become a mainstay not only for students but for all thinking Christians who want to understand the past fully while making their present participation in the sacraments more genuine and intelligent. Martos has greatly expanded all of the bibliographic material and has incorporated the latest developments in theological study and inquiry. His focus is on the seven ecclesial sacraments of the Catholic Church: Baptism, Confirmation, Eucharist, Reconciliation, Anointing, Marriage, and Orders. Though based on thorough research and impressive scholarship, Doors to the Sacred is written in a lively style that will be welcomed by a general audience. Paperback.

Sacred History from the Creation to the Giving of the Law Edward Porter Humphrey, 1888

The Month, 1883 Speculum Universale 8.31-92 Radulphus (Ardens), 2010 Radulphus Ardens fl. 1190s was a famous preacher, distinguished theologian within the school of Gilbert of Poitiers, and chaplain in the court of Richard I the Lionheart. While modern scholarship is already familiar with his sermon collections published in the Patrologia Latina, his major and final work, the Speculum universale, still remains unedited and virtually unexplored. In it, he composes one of the most comprehensive moral theologies in the twelfth century. In his treatment on the sacraments, he discusses questions and solutions to what he calls the necessary sacraments: namely, Baptism, Eucharist, Confirmation, Penance, and Extreme Unction. The voluntary sacraments, Marriage and Holy Orders, are not discussed. Building upon the sacramental theology of Peter Lombard's Sententiae and Simon of Tournai's Institutiones in sacram paginam ca. 1160-1170, he offers precise and lucid solutions that advance the ideas of his predecessors, sometimes in unique ways. He thereby becomes an important witness to the development of sacramental theology in the late twelfth century This is the first Latin edition and translation of Radulphus treatment of the sacraments Book 8 chapters 31 92 The introduction offers a biographical sketch a summary of his writings and an analysis of the manuscript tradition of the Speculum Included as well are critical studies on selected topics and extended Latin citations from elsewhere in the Speculum from Simon of Tournai's Institutiones and from many other post Lombardian theologians who are not his immediate sources like Magister Martin and Praepositinus Readers are thus presented with a wealth of Latin writings much of which are still unedited that situates Radulphus sacramental theology both within the broader framework of his moral theology and within the rich theological milieu of the late twelfth century As such Radulphus Speculum will be of interest both to scholars and students alike who are interested in the history of sacramental theology in the early scholastic period      Ministration of Sacraments ,1870      An Answer to Dr. Pusey's Challenge Respecting the Doctrine of the Real Presence John Harrison,1871      Divine Enticement:Theological Seductions Karmen Mackendrick,2013 Divine Enticement argues for a reconception of theology and its subject matter as modes of seduction of both body and mind Theological language as evocation opens onto rereadings of faith sacrament ethics prayer and scripture The conclusion argues for a sense of theology as calling upon infinite possibility      Understanding Folk Religion: 25th Anniversary Edition Paul G. Hiebert,R. Daniel Shaw,Tite Tienou,2024-04-24 This book has served the missiological community for twenty five years as a resource for understanding human spirituality in any context Thousands of students have incorporated the principles of this book into ministry around the globe This twenty fifth anniversary edition seeks to enable those who now bring their passion for mission to contemporary contexts affected by globalization climate change and political perspectives unimagined when this book originally appeared Every community wherever it is on earth has its share of beliefs and values that manifest themselves in practices that reflect spiritual engagement Those engaged in mission need to appreciate how underlying beliefs and values are reflected in handling spiritual power worship and blessing and interaction with others Gospel communicators must account for these elements as they seek to make God's intentions known to people who are searching for God The models presented early in the book are essential for establishing what people consider spiritually critical Applying these models in any religious environment will enable message bearers to engage with beliefs and practices that promote a gospel presentation that makes sense To that end we commend this book for effective missional engagement      Catholic Ceremonies and Explanation of the Ecclesiastical Year Alfred Durand,1896      The Indian sign language, with notes of the gestures taught deaf-mutes in our institutions William Philo Clark,1885      The Indian Sign Language William Philo Clark,1885 Under orders from General Sheridan Captain W P Clark spent over six years among the Plains Indians and other tribes studying their sign language In addition to an alphabetical cataloguing of signs Clark gives valuable background information on many tribes and their history and customs Considered the classic of its field this book provides entirely in prose form how to speak the language entirely through sign
