Sign Language Street Signs As Folk Art:

Sign Language, 1996 John Baeder author of the classic books of roadside Americana Diners and Gas Food and Lodging has a particular passion for handmade street signs Collected here are 205 of Baeder's photographs of his favorite signs Baeder's text offers revealing observations about folk art and real life and tells the reader much about letterforms composition and brushwork But more importantly the author finds many of these signs true cries from the heart and his personal responses add new meanings to these simple and often touching public declarations Reading this book will add pleasure to car trips and casual walks on city streets

Graphic Design in Urban Environments Robert Harland, 2016-10-20

Graphic Design in Urban Environments introduces the idea of a category of designed graphic objects that significantly contribute to the functioning of urban systems These elements smaller than buildings are generally understood by urban designers to comprise such phenomena as sculpture clock towers banners signs large screens the portrayal of images on buildings through smart screens and other examples of what urban designers call urban objects The graphic object as it is defined here also refers to a range of familiar things invariably named in the literature as maps street numbers route signs bus placards signs architectural communication commercial vernacular outdoor publicity lettering banners screens traffic and direction signs and street furniture One can also add markings of a sports pitch lighting bollards even red carpets or well dressings By looking at the environment and design and deconstructing form and context relationships the defining properties and configurational patterns that make up graphic objects are shown in this book to link the smallest graphic detail e.g. the number 16 to larger symbolic statements e.g. the Empire State Building From a professional design practice perspective a cross section through type typographic graphic and urban design will provide a framework for considering the design transition between alphabets writing systems images in the broadest sense and environments

Muffler Men

Timothy Corrigan Correll, Patrick Arthur Polk, 2000 Art can appear in the most unexpected places Muffler men for example have become one of the most striking and remarkable of recent folk art creations From Walla Walla to Daytona quirky mannikins constructed from discarded automobile mufflers are popping up across America Cobbled together as business signposts these comical sculptures are sprouting outside automotive repair shops everywhere Car debris harmonizes with human anatomy as rusty cast offs assume a new identity as savvy objects of art Signage turns into art as mechanics fashion cowboys dogs robots space aliens and a host of other creatures from metal scraps of the profession and with the aid of their workaday tools and acetylene If for only a passing moment the muffler men enliven the roadside and help to break up the monotony of daily commutes More than mere advertisements they interact with their communities by greeting the passerby The significance of muffler sculptures turns profound when they become local celebrities and are hailed as community landmarks But what do they mean For the creative mechanic who made them they are exclamatory signposts and store mascots For the academic folklorists who analyze them they are symbolic icons with cultural meanings that proclaim individual identity and group membership For the collectors who treasure them they are exemplars of outsider art For most non specialists who wave as they speed past they are funky delights This colorful book documents the widespread appeal of muffler men as a form of occupational art that enriches the workplace the local environment and now the art gallery The Automobile in American History and Culture Michael L. Pleasant Journeys and Good Eats Along the Way John Baeder, 2007 Pleasant Journeys and Good Eats along the Way surveys John Baeder s thirty five year obsession with roadside architecture especially America s diners and complements Baeder s Morris Museum of Art exhibit of the same name Originally attracted to classic postcard images of mom and pop businesses and old black and white photos of downtowns Baeder b 1938 has spent most of his art career depicting these beloved but unpretentious restaurants Often classified as a photorealist Baeder has always resisted being labeled He sees his paintings as a plea for preservation and a way to reveal the psychology behind diners Before the era of corporate fast food Americans on the road looked to diners to provide meals like mother makes a descriptive phrase found in Baeder s very first diner painting Home cooking was especially appealing to weary tourists who took to the American highway in increasing numbers between the 1920s and the 1960s By the late 1970s Baeder s paintings had become wildly popular Baeder s paintings resonate in melodies of color and line and exhibit their personalities through hand lettered placards and neon signs They invite the viewer to absorb the everyday simplicity of roadside architecture in new ways and to discover the values of hearth and home in unexpected places John Baeder of Nashville is a well known realist painter His work is in the permanent collections of the Whitney Museum of American Art High Museum of Art and many others Jay Williams is curator at the Morris Museum of Art in Augusta Georgia His previous publications include Illuminated Literature The Art of Jerry and Brian Pinkney and What Dogs Dream Paintings and Works on Paper by William Dunlap Kevin Grogan is the director of the Morris Museum of Art Donald Kuspit is professor of art history
