Cummings, 1988-05 In this study of the English language as it is spelled in America D W Cummings demonstrates that behind the apparent disorder of spelling in American English lies a self regulating and self reorganizing system that is responsive to four kinds of imperative phonetic semantic etymological and systemic Cummings offers a systematic theory of orthography and applies this theory to the American English vocabulary with numerous examples Cummings also describes the explication of written words into their elements particles and processes and he sets out the tactical and procedural rules that control the distribution and sequencing of vowels and consonants In the largest section of the book he provides an exhaustive description of the major and minor correspondences between the sounds of American English words and their spellings An essential reference work American English Spelling moves beyond questions of how words are spelled to an understanding of why they are spelled as they are      Making Sense in Sign Jenny

Visualizing Knowledge and Creating Meaning in Ancient Writing Systems Shai Gordin, 2013-12-31 Ancient writing systems employ logographic and logophonetic principles playing on the relationship between writing script and scribal learning. The workshop proceedings published in this volume explore the way these relationships encode knowledge and meaning reflected in the social historical and cultural mentality of the early peoples of East Asia, China and Japan, Anatolia, the Aegean, Egypt and Mesoamerica. The meeting was organized in the FU Berlin on the fall of 2010 by the editor and Dr Renata Landgrafova now Charles University Prague in the frame of the DFG research training group 1458 Notational Iconicity Schriftbildlichkeit headed by Prof Eva Cancik Kirschbaum and Prof Sybille Kramer. The premise of our meeting was that script and the organization of texts can reveal how knowledge is transformed and transmitted among different social groups across time and space and eventually standardized as written tradition. Its multidisciplinary approach follows recent trends in the attempt to arouse debate between scholars of disparate systems of writing be it Cuneiform Hieroglyphic or Linear in nature and to discuss their elements independent of origin or cultural context. A broad perspective on ancient writing and its visual elements was established with the contributions delving into the aspects of generating knowledge and meaning.
