Numbered Discourses Bhikkhu Sujato, SuttaCentral, SuttaCentral has published an entirely new translation of the four Pali Nik yas by Bhikkhu Sujato which is the first complete and consistent English translation of these core texts This is an ebook version of Bhikkhu Sujato s translation of the A guttara Nik ya which can also be read at SuttaCentral website The Numbered or Numerical Discourses are usually known as A guttara Nik ya in Pali abbreviated AN However the Pali tradition also knows the form Ekottara one up or incremental and this is the form usually found in the northern collections These collections organize texts in numbered sets from one to eleven Compared to the other nik yas they are more oriented to the lay community The Ekottarik gama EA in Chinese is a highly unusual text which features a range of variations within itself when it comes even to basic doctrines It shares considerably less in common with the Pali A guttara than the other collections do with their counterparts In addition there is a partial Ekottarik gama in Chinese as well as a variety of individual discourses and fragments in Chinese and Sanskrit This translation of A guttara Nik ya was updated on March 6th 2023

Restrictive Practices in Health Care and Disability Settings Bernadette McSherry, Yvette Maker, 2020-12-13

This volume explores different models of regulating the use of restrictive practices in health care and disability settings. The authors examine the legislation, policies, inspection, enforcement, and accreditation of the use of practices such as physical, mechanical, and chemical restraint. They also explore the importance of factors such as organisational culture and staff training to the effective implementation of regulatory regimes. In doing so, the collection provides a solid evidence base for both the development and implementation of effective approaches to restrictive practices that focus on their reduction and ultimately their elimination across health care sectors. Divided into five parts, the volume covers new ground in multiple respects. First, it addresses the use of restrictive practices across mental health, disability, and aged care settings, creating opportunities for new insights and interdisciplinary conversations across traditionally siloed sectors. Second, it includes contributions from research academics, clinicians, regulators, and mental health consumers, offering a rich and comprehensive picture of existing regulatory regimes and options for designing and implementing regulatory approaches that address the failings of current systems. Finally, it incorporates comparative perspectives from Australia, New Zealand, the Netherlands, Germany, and England. The book is an invaluable resource for regulators, policymakers, lawyers, clinicians, consumer advocates, and academics grappling with the use and regulation of restrictive practices in mental health, disability, and aged care contexts.
