

UK's First Space Launch Site

What is a satellite?

A satellite is either something natural, like a moon or a planet, or a man-made object that orbits a planet in a star. For example, the Moon is a satellite of the Earth.

Man-made satellites orbit the Earth doing all sorts of jobs. They could be taking pictures of the Earth or even other planets.

From the first space journey

The UK is now also close to launching its first orbital satellite.

Scientists launched a satellite last year from a rocket in their flying tests. It was successful, but could not fly in the UK's first space launch site.

The first mission expected to launch will be made by the amazing Virgin Orbit. They have asked their mission team to fly in orbit for a year by the end of the flying tests.

Some launches involve rockets flying off from the ground. There are launchers in orbit too. However, the rocket from Cornwall will be launched from a plane already in the air. This is known as a horizontal launch.

The rocket will launch a flying test plane called Horizon 1st. The plane will carry a satellite called CosmoSat.

Other satellite missions often have to fly in the plane will fly in a loop of 1000 km. It will then release the rocket, and the rocket flies, just north of Ireland.

The rocket will then split, releasing a cloud of 1000 km and travel out of the atmosphere. It will travel a distance of 100-100 miles above the Earth's surface.

Once in the height, the rocket will be in orbit around the Earth. It will release the satellite so that they will be in orbit around the Earth too.

Finally, the rocket will enter the Earth's atmosphere at which stage it will burn up and disintegrate.

Orbiting

orbital: orbits in a circle or set path in space orbit: to travel around something disintegrate: To break apart or become a piece.

After the rocket launched...

What Is Thanksgiving?

In the US, and in many other places around the world, Thanksgiving is being celebrated today.

The annual holiday is about giving thanks and spending time with family and friends. It's also a celebration of feeding so many people together to enjoy huge meals.

It began as a celebration giving thanks for a successful harvest. Pilgrims from Europe first sailed to America in 1492 on a ship called the Mayflower. However, their first harvest failed.

With the help of the local native people, the Pilgrims survived the following year's harvest and a winter. They had a big celebration and this is now thought of as the first Thanksgiving.

There are many traditions surrounding Thanksgiving. But today's holiday is mostly the biggest. In the US, more than 100 million people are eaten on Thanksgiving this year.

Other traditional foods enjoyed on the day include cranberries, potatoes and sweet corn.

Now it's Thanksgiving time

As well as a big meal, families and friends (and pets) gather for the famous turkey of the holiday.

Thanksgiving is also the UK's first Thanksgiving parade. The biggest is the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade in New York. Around three million people turn out to watch it in the city and around 10 million more watch it on TV.

11th is also the Indian Thanksgiving and the United States holds play games and Thanksgiving. These are watched by tens of millions of people. Families also go out and watch high school and college games as part of their Thanksgiving Day traditions.

For the Future...

Although the first Thanksgiving was in 1621, it wasn't until more than 200 years later that Thanksgiving became a national holiday.

Thanksgiving has been a holiday for many years. Many think it's a little weird. For 10 years, the legend of the Pilgrims is a story.

Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a holiday in the United States. It is the fourth Thursday of November. It is a day to give thanks for the things we have in our lives. It is a day to spend time with family and friends. It is a day to enjoy a big meal. It is a day to be grateful for what we have.
