Reverence For The Soul

James Freeman Clarke

Reverence For The Soul:

Reverence for the Soul Richard Schain, 2001-05-15 This is a philosophical work dressed out in journal form It requires readers receptive to a point of view transcending the current intellectually dominant scientific monism The writer develops his conviction that Homo sapiens needs and wants to develop his metaphysical self the soul in traditional terminology The contemporary scientific world view is predicated on an opposite viewpoint which is that there is no such thing as a soul there is only a network of neurons within the brain resulting in physical activities affecting a physical world and creating a physical self Amidst the description of the writer's conflicts with this prevailing world view are interspersed discussions about brain mind relationships about the question of the soul about dualism versus monism and the nature of the real world about purposes in writing and about personal values arising from all these matters Reverence for one's own soul is the ultimate value arrived at by the writer This is not a religious work it may in fact be regarded as anti religious even blasphemous by those disposed to such judgements Nevertheless the writer believes in the value of an intellectual conscience and is not inclined to offend it through deference to superannuated or self serving societal entities offering opiates for metaphysical needs It is well known by now that all genuine philosophy represents the personality and experiences of a philosopher however much it may be covered over with a scholarly style The philosopher wishing to pose in the white coat of the scientific investigator is a ridiculous figure who should be confined to circus entertainment Meaningful value oriented philosophy and what other kind is there is subjective in nature albeit requiring knowledge experience and intellect in its formulation An unpublished monograph of the writer available to those interested is entitled The Subjective Will to Metaphysical Existence This title makes explicit what is presented in more personalized and literary form in Reverence for the Soul

Reverence Paul Woodruff, Betty S. Flowers, 2014 Reverence is an ancient virtue that survives among us in half forgotten patterns of civility and moments of inarticulate awe Reverence gives meaning to much that we do yet the word has almost passed out of our vocabulary Reverence says philosopher and classicist Paul Woodruff begins in an understanding of human limitations From this grows the capacity to be in awe of whatever we believe lies outside our control God truth justice nature even death It is a quality of character that is especially important in leadership and in teaching although it figures in virtually every human relationship It transcends religious boundaries and can be found outside religion altogether Woodruff draws on thinking about this lost virtue in ancient Greek and Chinese traditions and applies lessons from these highly reverent cultures to today's world The book covers reverence in a variety of contexts the arts leadership teaching warfare and the home and shows how essential a quality it is to a well functioning society First published by Oxford University Press in 2001 this new edition of Reverence is revised and expanded It contains a foreword by Betty Sue Flowers Distinguished Teaching Professor Emeritus at the University of Texas at Austin a new preface two new chapters one on the sacred and one on compassion and an epilogue focused on renewing reverence in our own lives
