Signal Processing Proceedings Nato Advanced Studies Institute:

Applications in Time-Frequency Signal Processing Antonia Papandreou-Suppappola, 2018-10-03 Because most real world signals including speech sonar communication and biological signals are non stationary traditional signal analysis tools such as Fourier transforms are of limited use because they do not provide easily accessible information about the localization of a given frequency component A more suitable approach for those studying non stationary signals is the use of time frequency representations that are functions of both time and frequency Applications in Time Frequency Signal Processing investigates the use of various time frequency representations such as the Wigner distribution and the spectrogram in diverse application areas Other books tend to focus on theoretical development This book differs by highlighting particular applications of time frequency representations and demonstrating how to use them It also provides pseudo code of the computational algorithms for these representations so that you can apply them to your own specific problems Written by leaders in the field this book offers the opportunity to learn from experts Time Frequency Representation TFR algorithms are simplified enabling you to understand the complex theories behind TFRs and easily implement them The numerous examples and figures review of concepts and extensive references allow for easy learning and application of the various time frequency representations Automatische Spracherkennung Ernst Günter Schukat-Talamazzini, 2013-12-14 Spoken Language Understanding Gokhan Tur, Renato De Mori, 2011-05-03 Spoken language understanding SLU is an emerging field in between speech and language processing investigating human machine and human human communication by leveraging technologies from signal processing pattern recognition machine learning and artificial intelligence SLU systems are designed to extract the meaning from speech utterances and its applications are vast from voice search in mobile devices to meeting summarization attracting interest from both commercial and academic sectors Both human machine and human human communications can benefit from the application of SLU using differing tasks and approaches to better understand and utilize such communications This book covers the state of the art approaches for the most popular SLU tasks with chapters written by well known researchers in the respective fields Key features include Presents a fully integrated view of the two distinct disciplines of speech processing and language processing for SLU tasks Defines what is possible today for SLU as an enabling technology for enterprise e g customer care centers or company meetings and consumer e g entertainment mobile car robot or smart environments applications and outlines the key research areas Provides a unique source of distilled information on methods for computer modeling of semantic information in human machine and human human conversations This book can be successfully used for graduate courses in electronics engineering computer science or computational linguistics Moreover technologists interested in processing spoken communications will find it a useful source of collated information of the topic drawn from the two distinct disciplines of speech processing and language processing under the new area of SLU Gesamtverzeichnis der Kongress-Schriften in Bibliotheken der Bundesrepublik Deutschland einschliesslich

Multisensor Fusion Anthony K. Hyder,E. Shahbazian,E. Waltz,2012-12-06 For some time all branches of the military have used a wide range of sensors to provide data for many purposes including surveillance reconnoitring target detection and battle damage assessment Many nations have also attempted to utilise these sensors for civilian applications such as crop monitoring agricultural disease tracking environmental diagnostics cartography ocean temperature profiling urban planning and the characterisation of the Ozone Hole above Antarctica The recent convergence of several important technologies has made possible new advanced high performance sensor based applications relying on the near simultaneous fusion of data from an ensemble of different types of sensors The book examines the underlying principles of sensor operation and data fusion the techniques and technologies that enable the process including the operation of fusion engines Fundamental theory and the enabling technologies of data fusion are presented in a systematic and accessible manner Applications are discussed in the areas of medicine meteorology BDA and targeting transportation cartography the environment agriculture and manufacturing and process control
