The Poetry of Loss Judith Harris, 2023-05-15 The Poetry of Loss Romantic and Contemporary Elegies presents a renewed look at elegy as a long standing tradition in the literature of loss exploring recent shifts in the continuum of these memorial poems This volume investigates the tensions arising in elegiac formulations of grief through detailed analyses of seminal poets including Wordsworth Keats and Plath using psychoanalytic precepts to reconceptualize consolation through poetic strategies of inner representation and what it might mean for personal and collective experiences of loss Tracing the development of elegy beyond extant readings this volume addresses contemporary constructs of mourning and their attendant polemics within the wider culture as extensions of elegiac longings and the tendency to refuse consolation and cede to the endlessness of grief Furthermore this book concludes that contemporary elegies break with conventions of poetic structure and expression rather than the poets seeking resolution to grief through compensation they often find themselves dwelling within the loss rather than externalizing and transcending it The Poetry of Loss Romantic and Contemporary Elegies examines these developing psychoanalytic concepts pertaining to a poetics of loss providing readers with a new appreciation of mourning culture and contemporary attitudes towards grief Memory before Modernity Erika Kuijpers, Judith Pollmann, Johannes Mueller, Jasper van der Steen, 2013-12-05 This volume examines the practice of memory in early modern Europe showing that this was already a multimedia affair with many political uses and affecting people at all levels of society many pre modern memory practices persist until today Dying, Bereavement, and the Healing Arts Gillie Bolton, 2008 Offers valuable insights and inspiration for any practitioner working in a palliative care setting Australian contributor

Identity and Form in Contemporary Literature Ana María Sánchez-Arce, 2013-10-08 This ambitious and wide ranging essay collection analyses how identity and form intersect in twentieth and twenty first century literature It revises and deconstructs the binary oppositions identity form content form and body mind through discussions of the role of the author in the interpretation of literary texts the ways in which writers bypass or embrace identity politics and the function of identity and the body in form Essays tackle these issues from a number of positions including identity categories such as disability gender race and sexuality as well as questioning these categories themselves Essayists look at both identity as form and form as identity Although identity and form are both staples of current research on contemporary literature they rarely meet in the way this collection allows Authors studied include Beryl Bainbridge Samuel Beckett John Berryman Brigid Brophy Angela Carter J M Coetzee Anne Enright William Faulkner Mark Haddon Ted Hughes Kazuo Ishiguro B S Johnson A L Kennedy Toby Litt Hilary Mantel Andrea Levy Robert Lowell Ian McEwan Flannery O Connor Alice Oswald Sylvia Plath Jeremy Reed Anne Sexton Edith Sitwell Wallace Stevens Jeremy Reed Jeanette Winterson and Virginia Woolf The book engages with key theoretical approaches to twentieth and twenty first century literature of the last twenty years while at the same time advancing new frameworks that enable readers to reconsider the identity and form conundrum In both its choice of texts and diverse approaches it will be of interest to those working on English and American Literatures gender studies queer studies disability studies postcolonial literature and literature and philosophy Popfeminismus heute Sonja Eismann, 2007 Der Reader ber Frauen zwischen Feminismus und Pop Prekariat und Boheme Masterplots Two Tyrone Williams, 2009 Williams Xavier U presents 367 three to four page essays 101 commissioned new for this edition on significant African American works of literature from Afrocentricity The Theory of Social Change a work of cultural criticism by Molefi K Asante to Zami A New Spelling of My Name the biomythography of Audre Lorde The works covered range from early colonial era writings through works of the beginning of the 21st century Most of the essays address a single long work while others review an author s work in a certain genre such as short fiction poetry essays or speeches Each entry begins with information on title subtitle author s name and birth death dates type of work date of first publication and production For fiction information is also presented on type of plot setting and principal characters The essays then describe events or contents of the work and address broad themes and meanings connected to the work Essays on fiction works include discussion of main character or characters while nonfiction work includes sections on form and content and analysis All essays end with discussion of critical context Also included with the essays are annotated bibliographies on secondary sources The final volume includes indexes organized by type of work title and authors Examples of works covered in addition to the two already mentioned include Ain't I a Woman by bell hooks The Autobiography of Malcolm X Babel 17 by Samuel R Delany The Black Muslims in America by C Eric Lincoln The Content of Our Character by Shelby Steele Kindred by Octavia E Butler Roots by Alex Haley The Signifying Monkey by Henry Louis Gates Up from Slavery by Booker T Washington and Walkin the Dog by Walter Mosley Annotation 2009 Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com

Empathic Teaching Jeffrey Berman, 2004 During the past decade Jeffrey Berman has published widely on the pedagogy of personal writing In Diaries to an English Professor 1994 he explored the ways in which undergraduate students can use psychoanalytic diaries to deal with conflicted issues in their lives Surviving Literary Suicide 1999 investigated how graduate students respond to novels and poems that portray and sometimes glorify self inflicted death And in Risky Writing 2002 Berman considered the ways teachers can encourage college students to write safely on a wide range of subjects often deemed too personal or too dangerous for the classroom from grieving the loss of a friend to confronting sexual abuse on understanding the other can transform the experience of learning Berman begins with a discussion of several well known stories and films featuring literature instructors who exert a formative influence on their students including Good bye Mr Chips The Blackboard Jungle Up the Down Staircase and Dead Poets Society He then goes on to examine the pedagogical importance of empathy trauma and forgiveness in helping students cope with the ordinary and extraordinary challenges of everyday life powerful insightful authentic essays about lived experience that reveal both intellectual and emotional growth In the book's final chapter Berman considers the risks and benefits of empathic teaching demonstrating how teachers can play a therapeutic role in the classroom without being therapists Teachers who are regarded as trusting supportive and dependable he argues become attachment figures influencing students to be more sensitive to and connected with their classmates lives Or as Berman succinctly puts it empathic teaching leads to empathic learning an education for life

Writing on the Edge, 2003 The Mind's Eye Marian M. MacCurdy, 2007 In the post September 11 world therapeutic writing has become a topic of heightened interest in both academic circles and the popular press reflecting a growing awareness that writing can have a beneficial effect on the emotional and cognitive lives of survivors of traumatic experiences Yet teachers and others who encounter such writing often are unsure how to deal with it In The Mind's Eye Image and Memory in Writing about Trauma Marian Mesrobian MacCurdy investigates the relationship between writing and trauma examines how we process difficult experiences and how writing can help us to integrate them and provides a pedagogy to deal with the difficult life stories that often surface in the classroom MacCurdy begins by discussing what trauma is how traumatic memories are stored and accessed and how writing affects them She then focuses on the processes involved in translating traumatic images into narrative form showing how the same patterns and problems emerge whether the writers are students or professionals Using examples drawn from the classroom MacCurdy investigates the beneficial effects of the study of trauma on communities as well as individuals witnesses as well as writers and explores the implications of these relationships for the world at large particularly as they pertain to issues of justice retribution and forgiveness Throughout the volume the author draws on her own experience as teacher writer survivor and descendant of survivors to explain how one can engage student work on difficult subjects without appropriating the texts or getting lost in the emotions generated by them She further shows how appropriate safeguards can be put in place to protect both teacher and student writer The end result of such a pedagogy MacCurdy demonstrates is not simply better writers but more integrated people capable of converting their own losses and griefs into compassion for others Ploughshares Winter 2005-06 David St. John, Robert Arnold, 2005-12 JAC, 2005

Skorczewski, 2005 Based on the author s longtime experience as an instructor of composition this book explores the delicate negotiation between teacher and student that determines success or failure in writing courses Dawn Skorczewski s focus is on the role of the teacher in shaping this classroom dynamic particularly the ways in which theoretical presuppositions and personal expectations influence the responses elicited from students Drawing on the insights of psychoanalysis as well as recent infant research Skorczewski argues that the teacher who recognizes the beliefs she brings to the classroom is equipped to listen to her students more carefully than the teacher who holds her beliefs so closely that she can no longer see them as beliefs To show how these unconscious assumptions come into play and to explain their effects Skorczewski looks at a series of key moments in the life of a writing class She examines what it means to enter a classroom and take on the role of a teacher the challenge of leading a discussion the art of designing effective writing assignments the difficulties involved in evaluating student writing the negotiation of issues of authority and the pros and cons of self revelation In each case the author offers not only an analysis of the disruptions that characterize these pedagogical moments but also practical advice for dealing with them Although informed by theory the emphasis throughout is on real issues faced by real teachers in their writing courses
