Reinventing Leadership Making The Connection Between Politics And Business Suny Series In Leadership Studies:

Reinventing Leadership Barbara Kellerman,1999 In a striking departure from past practices Barbara Kellerman explores the fact that although we persist in viewing political and business leadership separately the similarities between them far outweigh the differences Kellerman claims that thinking of government and corporate leaders as a breed apart contributes to the dysfunctional gap between them and she argues that in order to tackle those political economic and social problems that are the most intractable political and business leaders will have no choice but to work together International environment the book therefore is an indispensable guide for scholars consultants and leaders committed to driving continuous improvement and navigating the complex intersection of politics and leadership in the modern workplace

After Leadership Brigid Carroll, Josh Firth, Suze Wilson, 2018-09-17 Leadership studies today resembles a bewildering diversity of theories concepts constructs and approaches struggling in huge part for meaning relevance and impact As Dennis Tourish so eloquently puts it much of the literature suffers from unrelenting triviality and sterile preoccupations Seeking to create a clean break from this current state of leadership studies After Leadership begins with the premise of a post apocalyptic world where only fragments of leadership science now remain echoing Alisdair McIntyre s imagining of such a scene as the basis for re establishing the foundations and focus of moral theory From these fragments the authors seek to construct a new leadership studies that challenges much of the established thinking on leadership exposes its limitations and biases and most importantly seeks to construct the foundations of a more inclusive participatory bold relational and social platform for leadership in the future After Leadership thus imagines a brave new world where what leadership is and what we seek from it can be developed anew rather than remaining bound up in the problematic traditions and preoccupations that characterise leadership studies today Offering both full length chapter explorations that explore new ways of understanding and practicing leadership as well as shorter essays that aim to provoke further reflection on leadership and what we seek of it After Leadership offers a uniquely critical and creative collection that will inspire students scholars and leadership educators to reconsider their understanding and practice of leadership

Rethinking Leadership Donna Ladkin, 2020 This thoroughly revised and extended second edition of the groundbreaking Rethinking Leadership builds on Donna Ladkin s entirely new approach to understanding leadership as a lived experience rather than a checklist of traits or behaviors Alongside selected expert contributors the author makes complex ideas accessible by illustrating them with practical examples drawn from a broad experience of both academic leadership and management across a range of commercial political and not for profit organizations New chapters explore the lived experience of women leaders how leaders might make responsible judgments how power works within leadership relations how business leadership differs from political leadership and the need for leaders to be more human Featuring up to date examples of how its ideas can be applied the book offers a way to engage with the complexity and unpredictability of leadership as a phenomenon at a time when effective wise leadership is needed more than ever Leadership scholars and doctoral level students will benefit from this book s novel philosophical perspective on leadership theorizing Its discussion of a variety of accessible case studies that illustrate key ideas will also prove useful to all postgraduate leadership students Contributors R A Gardiner D Ladkin C O Neill P Salovaara T Switzer
