Religion An Anthropological View:

Religion Anthony Wallace, 2013-02-13 The classic anthropological analysis of religion from a pioneer in the field From the preface Scientific efforts to learn just what are the forms and functions of religion have not been few it is the purpose of this book to review some of them and to synthesize the suggestions and findings My own personal feeling is that sociological viewpoints including much of social anthropology tend to focus on the scaffolding and milieu of religion rather than on religion itself and that religion can be best understood from a combination of psychological and cultural points of view This book is not I think motivated by a need to destroy by dissection a way of thinking and acting that many educated people feel is of little use or is even disadvantageous in a world increasingly committed to the search for scientific and technological solutions of human problems Rather I aim to preserve a friendly detachment in the asking of fundamental scientific questions about religion

Religion Anthony Francis Clarke Wallace, 1966      Religion Pierre R. Crosson, 1966      Religion Anthony Francis Clarke Wallace, 1966      Religion and Culture Raymond Scupin, 2008 For sophomore junior level courses in World Religions and Anthropology of Religion in departments of Anthropology Sociology and Religion Religion and Culture introduces students to the major World religions and aboriginal religious traditions This edited volume presents all aspects of the anthropological perspective on religion Contributing authors provide a unique assembly of various topics and traditions that are researched by contemporary anthropologists

Religion in Human Life: Anthropological Views Edward Norbeck, 1974 Religion in human life certainly qualifies as a basic topic for this series It is not an easy subject to treat effectively in brief compass Edward Norbeck has done so gracefully and informatively He develops two themes the description of religious events rituals and states of mind and the nature of anthropological aims views procedures and interpretations The interweaving of these two themes provides a view of religion as an anthropological subject and of religion as a process in human life that is unexpected in this short book Instructors of anthropology familiar with anthropological writing on religion will find that the author has not only touched upon many standard topics included in the study of religion but has also included treatments of material not ordinarily covered in standard anthropological works such as etiquette and religion religion and human play rites of reversal and certain aspects of religious transcendence

Academic Study of Religions in a Cognitive, Anthropological and Sociological Perspective Tomáš Bubík, Jakub Havlíček, Silvie Kotherová, Dušan Lužný, Rudolf Havelka, 2021 The book deals with current issues of the study of religion as an academic discipline especially cognitive anthropological and sociological research of religious thought and behaviour Publikace pojednává o aktuálním problému religionistiky jako akademické disciplíny zejména o kognitivním antropologickém a sociologickém výzkumu náboženství a jeho vývoji

Religion H. Sidky, 2015 Religion An Anthropological Perspective provides a critical view of religion focusing upon important but overlooked topics such as religion cognition and prehistory science rationality and religion altered states of consciousness entheogens and religious experience religion and the paranormal magic and divination religion and ecology fundamentalism and religion and violence In addition this book offers a unique and concise coverage of traditional topics of the anthropology of religion such as shamanism and witchcraft past and present ritual myth religious symbols and revitalization movements A vast range of findings from ethnography ethnology cultural anthropology archaeology prehistory history and cognitive science are brought to bear on the subject Written in clear jargon free prose this book provides an accessible and comprehensive yet critical view of the anthropology of religion both for graduate and undergraduate students and general audiences Its scope and critical scientific orientation sets Religion An Anthropological Perspective apart from all other treatments of the subject Religion: a Sociological View Elizabeth Kristine

Nottingham,1971 Discusses the varying roles religion has played in societies of differing types Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. description of religious events rituals the nature of anthropological aims views procedures interpretations are effectively informatively presented in this compact volume A Companion to the Anthropology of Religion Janice Boddy,Michael Lambek,2014-01-14 A Companion to the Anthropology of Religion presents a collection of original ethnographically informed essays that explore the variety of beliefs practices and religious experiences in the contemporary world and asks how to think about religion as a subject of anthropological inquiry Presents a collection of original ethnographically informed essays exploring the wide variety of beliefs practices and religious experiences in the contemporary world Explores a broad range of topics including the perspectivism debate the rise of religious nationalism reflections on religion and new media religion and politics and ideas of self and gender in relation to religious belief Includes examples drawn from different religious traditions and from several regions of the world Features newly commissioned articles reflecting the most up to date research and critical thinking in the field written by an international team of leading scholars Adds immeasurably to our understanding of the complex relationships between religion culture society and the individual in today s world The Politics of Religion in Indonesia Michel Picard,Rémy Madinier,2011-05-13 Indonesia is a remarkable case study for religious politics While not being a theocratic country it is not secular either with the Indonesian state officially defining what constitutes religion and every citizen needing to be affiliated to one of them This book focuses on Java and Bali and the interesting comparison of two neighbouring societies shaped by two different religions Islam and Hinduism The book examines the appropriation by the peoples of Java and Bali of the idea of religion through a dialogic process of indigenization of universalist religions and universalization of indigenous religions It looks at the tension that exists between proponents of local world views and indigenous belief systems and those who deny those local traditions as qualifying as a religion This tension plays a leading part in the construction of an Indonesian religious identity recognized by the state The book is of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asia religious studies and the anthropology and sociology of religion Selected Readings in the

Anthropology of Religion Stephen D. Glazier, Charles A. Flowerday, 2003-12-30 Brings together in one volume a number of key theoretical and methodological advances in the anthropological study of religion Chapters cover important topics not ordinarily included in books dealing with the anthropology of religion e g bipedalism the study of alcohol film and video images notions of religious agency In addition this collection is intended to build bridges between anthropologists of religion and religious studies scholars Over the last four decades anthropologists have grappled with the dialectical relationship between the examination of cultures from the emic or insider perspective and the etic or outsider perspective Nowhere is this creative tension more evident than in the anthropological study of religion In this volume anthropologists and religious studies scholars come to terms not only with a landscape that has shifted fundamentally but a landscape that is still shifting Essays in this collection raise new and important issues for the anthropological study of religion in new and important ways In intensely personal essays a number of contributors address two fundamental concerns in the study of religion 1 how should anthropologists deal with the beliefs and practices of others and 2 how should anthropologists deal with their own religious backgrounds and beliefs as these may affect their understanding of the beliefs and practices of others A partial resolution to both questions is necessary before the anthropological study of religion can advance to a higher level

A
Politics of Presence Peter Pels, 2013-12-16 Christian missions in Africa are commonly viewed as a blatant example of ethnocentrism This stereotype partly exists because the day to day interaction between missionaries and Africans has so rarely been studied This book shows how Africans and missionaries co produced a Catholic Church in the Uluguru mountains of Eastern Tanzania in the late colonial period thereby adapting each others routines in the fields of initiation education magic and religion It explores how the presence of the mission resulted in a rift between spiritual and worldly magic and in the underdevelopment of the capacity of Waluguru to manage their own practices of revelation

Understanding
Religious Life Frederick J. Streng, 1985 This text uses two basic themes to enhance student understanding 1 the search for an understanding of religious life as an ongoing process and 2 the need for recognizing a variety of ultimate realities when studying religious pluralism

Psycho-analytic Concept of Religion Shatrughna Mani Tripathi, 1979

Religion in
Personal Development Harold A. Buetow, 1991 Religion is in the forefront of current discussions about such areas as teacher preparation parental duties the rights of church affiliated schools values education full personal growth the proliferation of crime moral aberrations the loss of personal identity and society s concerns But what is religion And what is the testimony to its importance from such fields as philosophy history anthropology sociology and psychology Can today s renewed interest in ethics be satisfied without reference to religion If systematic exposure to religion is necessary for wholeness can it be fulfilled by learning about religion or must it be by way of witness and commitment May current graduates of schools without religion systematically in their curriculum be said to be educated or must they be said to be only schooled How does one satisfactorily include religion in government schools In denominational schools
