Patents and Global Administrative Law David Tilt, 2025-07-18 The book applies values and concepts from Global Administrative Law GAL to international patent law demonstrating how limiting technocratic and overly economic language can be Highlighting the administrative foundations of patent law the book argues that in its international form it can be analysed using the same principles of participation transparency and accountability found in national administrative law At the heart of the book is a simple question What does international patent law look like when we approach it through the lens of these values What is being left out when patent law is described predominantly in terms of its technical legal provisions or economic impact The book presents three interrelated contexts EU patent law bilateral trade agreements and the multilateral space Modern patent law is increasingly discussed in terms of national competitiveness or economic potential which reveals only a narrow understanding of how patent law evolves and functions The vocabulary of administrative law provides a fresh way of recasting reframing and re describing the dynamics of international patent law in a way that is more accessible to those outside of a traditional patent scholarship audience A fundamental objective of the book is to challenge the tendency towards technocratic isolation in patent law The book uses accessible vocabulary and represents a new way of conceptualising and understanding how patent law develops on a global scale The book will be of interest to researchers in the field of patent law international law and administrative law

Environmental Integration in the EU's External Relations Gracia Marín Durán, Elisa Morgera, 2012-03-16 The book examines the integration of environmental protection requirements into EU external relations focusing on unilateral bilateral and inter regional instruments which have been less explored than the multilateral dimension of EU environmental policy The book also explores for the first time the complex interplay and mutual influences between EU environmental integration initiatives and environmental multilateralism On the one hand it identifies the legal and other instruments used by the EU to support the implementation of multilateral environmental agreements in third countries particularly developing ones On the other hand it singles out the legal and other tools employed by the EU as a means to build partnerships with third countries in order to influence ongoing multilateral negotiations concerning the environment and sustainable development or to contribute to the development of new international environmental norms in the absence of such multilateral negotiations Ultimately the book traces the significant evolution of the various tools deployed by the EU to integrate environmental concerns in its external relations with a view to identifying emerging challenges and future directions

Trade Organization's current Trade Policy Reviews Preferential Trade Agreements Kyle W. Bagwell, Petros C.

Mavroidis, 2011-03-07 This volume assembles a stellar group of scholars and experts to examine preferential trade agreements PTAs a topic that has time and again attracted the interest of analysts It presents a discussion of the evolving economic analysis regarding PTAs and the various dysfunctions that continually place them among the priority items for renegotiation by the WTO The book explores recent empirical research that casts doubt on the old trade diversion school and debates why the WTO should deal with PTAs and if PTAs belong under the mandate of the WTO as we now know it

Handbook of Computable General Equilibrium Modeling Peter B. Dixon, Dale Jorgenson, 2012-12-04 Top scholars synthesize and analyze scholarship on this widely used tool of policy analysis in 27 articles setting forth its accomplishments difficulties and means of implementation Though CGE modeling does not play a prominent role in top U S graduate schools it is employed universally in the development of economic policy This collection is particularly important because it presents a history of modeling applications and examines competing points of view Presents coherent summaries of CGE theories that inform major model types Covers the construction of CGE databases model solving and computer assisted interpretation of results Shows how CGE modeling has made a contribution to economic policy Global Economic Prospects 2005, 2004

This annual publication analyses the global and national dimensions of the investment climate for developing countries in terms of the policy and institutional environment This edition examines the growth of regional trade agreements which have risen eight fold in two decades with currently as much as 40 percent of global trade taking place among countries that have some form of reciprocal regional trade agreement Issues discussed include regional trading trends effects of regional agreements on trade creation trade facilitation and services investment intellectual property rights and labour mobility whether the proliferation of agreements poses risks for multilateral trading system and if so options for managing them The report finds that agreements leading to open regionalism that is deeper integration of trade as a result of low external tariffs increased services competition and efforts to reduce cross border and customs delays costs are effective as part of a larger trade strategy to promote growth Although regional agreements can prove beneficial to member countries they can have adverse effects on excluded countries and the lowering of border barriers around the world is crucial to minimising these effects The completion of the Doha Development Agenda by all WTO countries will reduce the risk of trade diversion associated with regional agreements and will decrease trade losses of countries excluded from agreements
