Beer, Andrew, Haughton, Graham

Reinventing A Region Restructuring In West Yorkshire Urban And Regional Planning And Development:

Developing locally Beer, Andrew, Houghton, Graham, 2003-11-26 Throughout the developed world governments have invested substantial sums in local and regional economic development Many have spent heavily on local development agencies and strategies to bolster competitiveness within world markets What has been the impact of these actions How effective are the strategies and processes employed by development agencies How well funded are development efforts in one nation compared to another and how are their objectives defined This book addresses these questions It explores the impact and functioning of economic development agencies makes a unique contribution to the emerging literature on economic development agencies by reporting on the results of a cross national survey of economic development practitioners compares the institutional architectures of economic development in Australia England the United States and Northern Ireland analyses how these institutional arrangements affect individual agencies and their regions This book is intended for a wide audience including economic development practitioners local government officers officials within national or state governments and academics It provides the reader with a greater appreciation of how local and regional economic development systems operate in different economies and aids understanding of what makes the economic development system in each nation unique It challenges ideas about the uniformity of economic development efforts and encourages practitioners and policy makers to experiment with and explore strategies used elsewhere Developing Locally , Ibss: Political Science: 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics, 1995-12-08 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institution whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences Consumer Services and Economic Development Colin C. Williams, 1997 Consumer Services and Economic Development evaluates the role of consumer services as motors for local economic development in contemporary advanced economies The contributions that specific consumer service industries are making to local economic development are analysed Tourism sports universities retailing and the cultural industries are each examined in turn Following this the roles that the consumer services sector are playing in economic regeneration are investigated in a number of different contexts a global city several contrasting urban areas and a rural locality In each case whether consumer services have taken a lead or supportive role in local economic development is surveyed and their effectiveness in promoting economic regeneration is evaluated This book dispels the common myth that consumer services are residual activities dependent upon other economic sectors for their vitality and viability Providing a comprehensive overview and evaluation of the contributions of the consumer services sector to economic development this book reveals the need for a fundamental reconceptualization of both the function of services in particular and economic development theory and practice more generally Reinventing a Region Graham Houghton, David Whitney, 1994 This text deals with the changing economy of West Yorkshire as its industrial base diminishes It examines the effects of local initiative urban development and environmental planning on the area and looks to the future with the implications of the Single European Market International Bibliography of Economics 1994 British Library of Political and Economic Science at the London School of Economics,1995 The IBSS is the essential tool for librarians university departments research institutions and any public or private institutions whose work requires access to up to date and comprehensive knowledge of the social sciences Conceptions of Space and Place in Strategic Spatial Planning Simin Davoudi,Ian Strange,2008-11-24 Bringing together authors from academia and practice this book examines spatial planning at different places throughout the British Isles Six illustrative case studies of practice examine which conceptions of space and place have been articulated presented and visualized through the production of spatial strategies Ranging from a large conurbation London to regional Yorkshire and Humber and national levels the case studies give a rounded and grounded view of the physical results and the theory behind them While there is widespread support for re orienting planning towards space and place there has been little common understanding about what constitutes spatial planning and what conceptions of space and place underpin it This book addresses these questions and stimulates debate and critical thinking about space and place among academic and professional planners The Town Planning Review Patrick Abercrombie,1999 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny,1995-02 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,1995 Bibliographic Index ,1995 Planning Beyond 2000 Philip Allmendinger,Michael Chapman,1999-07-07 Providing a complete and comprehensive overview of planning issues policy and theory in the UK it goes on to assess the state of current planning theory its revival in the 1990s and what questions theorists will need to address over the next 15 years Bibliographie Internationale de Science Politique ,1994 Corporate City?
