This volume on Jewish studies presents surveys of today s interests and directions in the humanities and social sciences It covers the main areas taught and researched as part of Jewish studies in universities throughout the world especially in Europe the US and Israel Peter - Apocalyptic Seer John R. Markley,2013 In this study John R Markley argues that the generic portrayal of apocalyptic seers which he reconstructs through an analysis of fourteen Jewish and Christian apocalypses shaped Matthew s portrayal of Peter This influence of the apocalypse genre has come to bear on the Matthean Peter indirectly through Matthew s appropriation of Markan and Q source material and directly through Matthew s redaction and special material This suggests that Matthew has portrayed Peter in part as an apocalyptic seer who was an exclusive recipient of mysteries about Jesus and mysteries mediated by Jesus In other words Matthew primarily conceived of Peter as a recipient of revelation analogously to the venerated seers portrayed in the apocalypses of the Second Temple period Markley states that these conclusions require substantial revision to the predominant scholarly estimations of the Matthean Peter which mainly hold him to be a typical or exemplary disciple The Christological Assimilation of the Apocalypse Paul

O'Callaghan,2004 Biblical apocalyptic texts that make imminent predictions of the end of the world as we know it have fascinated Christians from the earliest times Understandably over the centuries such texts have been interpreted in a variety of different even opposing ways This is particularly so in twentieth century biblical exegesis Many authors would hold that apocalyptic texts far from truly predicting the end of time final resurrection universal judgement and perpetual separation of just and wicked are to be seen as merely existential or performative expressions of the sinner s radical dependence on a Sovereign Divinity Any kind of literal interpretation of apocalyptic predictions therefore would seem to involve insoluble problems of a scientific ethical and social kind that modern society cannot envisage In this extensive biblical study Prof O

Callaghan considers in detail not only the eschatology present in apocalyptic works in general and the complex debate on New Testament eschatology that flourished throughout the last century He has also shown that the powerful apocalyptic message present in the New Testament is essentially an application and direct consequence of Jesus Christ's saving work among humans Principally on the basis of a narrative analysis of Matthew's Christology apocalyptic motifs abound in the first gospel he shows that New Testament apocalyptic as it stands while radical challenging and theologically stimulating is neither irrational nor ethically untenable And this for the simple reason that the Judge who will come at the end of time to save the just and condemn sinners is one and the same Jesus of Nazareth who has already offered the gift of salvation to the whole of humankind
