Pioneer Gentlewoman In British Columbia The Recollections Of Susan Allison:

A Pioneer Gentlewoman in British Columbia Margaret A. Ormsby, 2011-11-01 My husband alarmed left me and ran to the Indian ranch returning with one of Quinisco's sisters She smoothed up my bed and suggested whiskey which I swallowed I think I would have swallowed anything to get rid of the pain About nine o'clock next day my baby was born two months too soon the first white child born in the Similkameen Valley In 1860 at the age of fourteen Susan Louisa Moir left England for British Columbia After settling initially at Hope she lived briefly in both Victoria and New Westminster then B.C.'s two most important settlements Returning to Hope she helped her mother open the community's first school and in 1868 she married John Fall Allison riding on her honeymoon over the Allison Trail into the unsettled Similkameen Valley Her record of the voyage of Victoria New Westminster and Hope as they were in the 1860s and her memories of the isolated but fulfilling life she her husband and their fourteen children led in the Similkameen and Okanagan Valleys provide a unique view of the pioneer mind and spirit There were exciting moments a horseback journey to Hope through a forest fire that made the Skagit River boil her husband's boat nearly crushed by a gigantic ice floe on Lake Okanagan but setting the tone of the whole account is an abiding natural curiosity and respect for both of her closest neighbours the Similkameen and Okanagan Indians and the wilderness itself It is these qualities expressed in forceful uncomplicated prose that make Susan Allison's

Recollections a major addition to Canadian pioneer literature The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields genres and periods in Canadian literary studies The essays in this volume written by prominent theorists in the field reflect the plurality of critical perspectives regional and historical specializations and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest including 1 attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere encompassing such topics as neoliberalism trauma and memory citizenship material culture literary prizes disability studies literature and history digital cultures globalization studies and environmentalism or ecocriticism 2 interest in Indigenous literatures and settler Indigenous relations 3 attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada 4 interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline 5 a turn towards book history and literary history with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature 6 a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary including an interest in affect theory mourning melancholy haunting memory and autobiography The book represents a diverse array of interests from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous regional and diasporic traditions to more recent discussions of globalization market forces and neoliberalism It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole The Routledge Introduction to Victorian Canadian Literature Thomas Hodd, 2025-12-16 This study is a comprehensive overview of the literature produced in Canada during the reign of Queen Victoria 1837 1901 Whereas previous examinations of this fertile literary period have been discussed in the context of larger more abstract terms like early Canadian literature and 19th century Canadian literature this book offers a more narrowly focused examination of the kinds of literary shifts and transformations that occurred as British North America pivoted from its colonial beginnings to its new Confederation and post Confederation reality Focusing on the four main genres non fiction drama poetry and prose fiction this book draws together a rich corpus of notable works in order to illustrate the hybrid nature of the period s literature It also seeks to demonstrate the many ways in which Victorian Canadian writers engaged in trans Atlantic and transnational literary experimentation

Writing the Pioneer Woman Janet Floyd,2002 Focusing on a series of autobiographical texts published and private well known and obscure Writing the Pioneer Woman examines the writing of domestic life on the nineteenth century North American frontier In an attempt to determine the meanings found in the pioneer woman s everyday writings from records of recipes to descriptions of washing floors Janet Floyd explores domestic details in the autobiographical writing of British and Anglo American female emigrants

On the Cusp of Contact Jean Barman,2020-03-28 The ways in which we can redress the past are many and varied writes Jean Barman and it is up to each of us to act as best we can The seventeen essays collected here originally published between 1996 and 2013 make a valuable contribution toward this laudable goal With a wide range of source material from archival and documentary sources to oral histories Barman pieces together stories of individuals and groups disadvantaged in white settler society because of their gender race and or social class Working to recognize past actors that have been underrepresented in mainstream histories Barman s focus is BC on the cusp of contact The essays in this collection include fascinating though largely forgotten life stories of the frontier that space between contact and settlement where for a brief moment anything seemed possible This volume featuring over thirty archival photographs and illustrations makes these important and very readable essays accessible to a broader audience for the first time
