Pioneer Pottery:

Pioneer Pottery Michael Cardew, 2002 When he went to West Africa in the 1940s Michael Cardew found himself in a land where the potter's art had been flourishing for centuries without the use of wheels or kilns or glazes This book grew out of his desire to share all that he had learned from the African pioneers of pottery Book of Pottery Marks William Percival Jervis, 1897 Forming Techniques - for the Self-Reliant Potter Henrik Norsker, 2013-04-17 Women and Ceramics Moira Vincentelli, 2000 This pioneering collection of essays deals with the topic of how Irish literature responds to the presence of non Irish immigrants in Celtic Tiger and post Celtic Tiger Ireland The book assembles an international group of 18 leading and prestigious academics in the field of Irish studies from both sides of the Atlantic including Declan Kiberd Anne Fogarty and Maureen T Reddy amongst others Key areas of discussion are what does it mean to be multicultural and what are the implications of this condition for contemporary Irish writers How has literature in Ireland responded to inward migration Have Irish writers reflected in their work either explicitly or implicitly the existence of migrant communities in Ireland If so are elements of Irish traditional culture and community maintained or transformed What is the social and political efficacy of these intercultural artistic visions Writers discussed include Hugo Hamilton Roddy Doyle Colum McCann il s N Dhuibhne Dermot Bolger Chris Binchy Michael O Loughlin Emer Martin and Kate O Riordan Glass & Pottery World, 1896

Warner, Margaret Sermons Purser, 2017 A 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title The mythic American West with its perilous frontiers big skies and vast resources is frequently perceived as unchanging and timeless The work of many western based historical archaeologists over the past decade however has revealed narratives that often sharply challenge that timelessness Historical Archaeology Through a Western Lens reveals an archaeological past that is distinct to the region but not in ways that popular imagination might suggest Instead this volume highlights a western past characterized by rapid and ever changing interactions between diverse groups of people across a wide range of environmental and economic situations The dynamic and unpredictable lives of western communities have prompted a constant challenging and reimagining of both individual identities and collective understandings of their position within a broader national experience Indeed the archaeological West is one clearly characterized by mobility rather than stasis The archaeologies presented in this volume explore the impact of that pervasive human mobility on the West a world of transience impermanence seasonal migration and accelerated trade and technology at scales ranging from the local to the global By documenting the challenges of both local community building and global networking they provide an archaeology of the West that is ultimately from the West Wood-fired Ceramics Coll Minogue, Robert Sanderson, 2000-03-08 This book describes the development of the main types of wood fired kilns used by
