Pioneers Of Anglo Irish Fiction 1800 185:

The Pioneers of Anglo-Irish Fiction, 1800-1850 Barry Sloan, 1986 The years 1800 1850 saw the emergence in Ireland of a number of novelists and story writers who took as their subject matter their native country its people and its social economic and political problems Their pioneering work is not only a unique record of life in rural Ireland in the late 18th and early 19th centuries before the disasters of the great famine in the 1840s changed many things irreversibly it also initiated a tradition of Anglo Irish fiction which in the twentieth century has achieved international stature and recognition It is comprehensive in scope considering not only the major writers Maria Edgeworth Lady Morgan the Banim brothers Gerald Griffin and William Carleton but also lesser figures such as Charles Maturin Mrs S C Hall Samuel Lover the early work of Charles Lever and Joseph Sheridan Le Fanu and other minor contributors There is also a chronology for the period from 1767 the year of Maria Edgeworth s birth up to 1850 It sets the lives and works of the novelists discussed in this book against the literary social and political contexts of their times both in Ireland and abroad London and the Making of Provincial Literature Joseph Rezek, 2015-08-28 In the early nineteenth century London publishers dominated the transatlantic book trade No one felt this more keenly than authors from Ireland Scotland and the United States who struggled to establish their own national literary traditions while publishing in the English metropolis Authors such as Maria Edgeworth Sydney Owenson Walter Scott Washington Irving and James Fenimore Cooper devised a range of strategies to transcend the national rivalries of the literary field By writing prefaces and footnotes addressed to a foreign audience revising texts specifically for London markets and celebrating national particularity provincial authors appealed to English readers with idealistic stories of cross cultural communion From within the messy and uneven marketplace for books Joseph Rezek argues provincial authors sought to exalt and purify literary exchange In so doing they helped shape the Romantic era belief that literature inhabits an autonomous sphere in society London and the Making of Provincial Literature tells an ambitious story about the mutual entanglement of the history of books and the history of aesthetics in the first three decades of the nineteenth century Situated between local literary scenes and a distant cultural capital enterprising provincial authors and publishers worked to maximize success in London and to burnish their reputations and build their industry at home Examining the production of books and the circulation of material texts between London and the provincial centers of Dublin Edinburgh and Philadelphia Rezek claims that the publishing vortex of London inspired a dynamic array of economic and aesthetic practices that shaped an era in literary history Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1994 Whitaker's Cumulative Book List ,1986 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 International Bibliography of Historical Sciences ,1986 Verzeichnis der exzerpierten Zeitschriften 1926 p XXXI XVII Dictionary Of British And Irish Botanists And Horticulturalists Including plant collectors, flower painters and garden designers Ray Desmond, 2020-12-23 Over the past four centuries botanists and gardeners in the British Isles have gathered maintained and propagated many varying species of plants Their work has been documented in innumerable books and articles which are often difficult to trace The Dictionary of British and Irish Botanists and Horticulturalists represents a time saving reference source for those who wish to discover more about the lives and achievements of the horticulturalists listed The dictionary's utility comes not only from indicating the major publications of the named authors but also the location of their herbaria and manuscripts The previous 1977 edition of the Dictionary has for many years been a much used source of information for botanists botanic artists and archivists In this revised edition the scope has been expanded to include among its 13 000 entries flower painters in addition to botanical artists over 1400 entries and for the first time garden designers Finally the Dictionary should have international appeal since so many botanists and gardeners worked on collective plants overseas in particular in North America and the British Commonwealth Each entry gives wherever possible details of dates and places of birth and death educational qualifications professional posts honours and awards publications location of plant collections manuscripts drawings and portraits Its main function however is to provide further biographical references to books and periodicals Comprehensive classified indices facilitate access by professions and activities countries and plant interests

Century Paul Huddie, Cathal Billings, Arlene Crampsie, 2025-07-07 Conflict is a well trod theme in the study of nineteenth century Ireland and the Irish While this is especially clear in the more traditional fields of politics religion and the military conflict was equally manifest in every arena of Irish people's lives both in Ireland and abroad including in areas such as gender class culture and identity in domestic or personal spaces institutional life education and medicine Yet despite a broad and multi disciplinary historiography this is the first book to focus solely on this rich theme New Perspectives on Conflict and Ireland in the Nineteenth Century brings together a group of scholars based around the world and in multiple disciplines who engage with the manifestations representations and histories of conflict pertaining to Ireland and Irish people throughout the long nineteenth century Books in Print, 1977 Brokering Culture in Britain's Empire and the Historical Novel

Matthew C. Salter, 2020-08-03 Brokering Culture in Britain's Empire and the Historical Novel examines the relationship between the historical sensibilities of nineteenth century British and American romancers and the conceptual frameworks that eighteenth century imperial interlocutors used to imagine and critique their own experiences of Britain's diffused tenuous and often accidental authority Salter argues that this cultural experience more than what Lukács had in mind when he wrote of a mass historical consciousness after Napoleon gave rise to the Romantic historiographical approach of writers such as Walter Scott James Fenimore Cooper Charles Brockden Brown and Frederick Marryat This book traces the conversion of the eighteenth century imperial speaker into the nineteenth century romance hero through a number of proto novelistic responses to the problem of Imperial history including Edmund Burke in the Annual Register and the celebrated court case of James Annesley among others The author argues that popular Romantic novels such as Scott's Waverley and Cooper's The Pioneers convert the problem of narrating the political geographies of eighteenth century Empire into a discourse of history placing the historical realities of negotiating Imperial authority at the heart of a nineteenth century project that fictionalized the possibilities and limits of political historical agency in the modern nation state
