(Re-)Writing the Radical Maike Oergel, 2012-12-19 The essays in this volume discuss the overlap between philosophical aesthetic and political concerns in the 1790s either in the work of individuals or in the transfer of cultural materials across national borders which tended to entail adaptation and transformation What emerges is a clearer understanding of the fate of the Enlightenment its radicalization and its overcoming in aesthetic and political terms and of the way in which political paranoia generated by the fear of a spreading revolutionary radicalism facilitated and influenced the cultural transfer of the radical The collection will be of interest to scholars in French German English and comparative studies working on the later 18th century or early 19th century It is of particular interest to those working on the impact of the French Revolution those engaged in reception studies and those researching the interface between political and cultural activities It is also of key interest to intellectual historians of this period as well as general historians with an interest in modern conservatism and radicalism Rencontre ,1996-06 Bibliographie du Québec ,1996-05 Bibliographie nationale française ,1997 Fraser's Magazine for Town and Country James Anthony Froude, John Tulloch, 1834
