Role Of Interest In Learning And Development:

The Role of Interest in Learning and Development K. Ann Renninger, Suzanne Hidi, 1992 Interest is just emerging as a critical bridge between cognitive and affective issues in both learning and development This developing interest in interest appears to be linked to an increasing concern for studying the individual in context examining affective variables as opposed to purely structural features of text analyzing the interrelationship of cognitive and social development understanding practical applications of theories of motivation and recognizing the importance of developmental psychology for the study of learning This book addresses both how individual interest and interest inherent in stimuli books text toys etc across subjects affect cognitive performance While the book s particular emphasis is on theory driven research each of the contributing authors offers a unique perspective on understanding interest and its effects on learning and development As such each has contributed a chapter in which particular questions in interest research are described and linked to a clearly stated theoretical perspective and recent findings Relevant material from the broader literatures of psychology and education are analyzed in the context of these discussions In addition the introductory and concluding chapters build on the contributions to the volume by providing the basis of a coherent view of interest across genres such as stories and expository text and domains as varied as play reading and mathematics Interest in Mathematics and Science Learning Ann

Renninger, Martina Nieswandt, Suzanne Hidi, 2015-04-19 Interest in Mathematics and Science Learning edited by K Ann Renninger Martin Nieswandt and Suzanne Hidi is the first volume to assemble findings on the role of interest in mathematics and science learning As the contributors illuminate across the volume s 22 chapters interest provides a critical bridge between cognition and affect in learning and development This volume will be useful to educators researchers and policy makers especially those whose focus is mathematics science and technology education Handbook of Communication and Social Interaction Skills John O. Greene, Brant Raney Burleson, 2003 A comprehensive handbook covering social interaction skills skill acquisition in the context of personal professional and public stages For scholars students in interpersonal group family health communication Developing Engaged Readers in School and Home Communities

Linda Baker, Peter Afflerbach, David Reinking, 2012-12-06 This book comprises a synthesis of current directions in reading research theory and practice unified by what has been referred to as the engagement perspective of reading This perspective guides the research agenda of the National Reading Research Center NRRC a consortium of the University of Georgia University of Maryland and affiliated scholars A major goal of the book is to introduce reading researchers to the engagement perspective as defined by the NRRC and to illustrate its potential to integrate the cognitive social and motivational dimensions of reading and reading instruction Engaged readers are viewed as motivated strategic knowledgeable and socially interactive They read widely for a variety of purposes and capitalize on situations having potential to extend literacy The book is organized into four sections representing key components of the NRRC research agenda and the engagement perspective This perspective emphasizes contexts that influence engaged reading Accordingly the first section of the volume focuses on the social and cultural contexts of literacy development with chapters devoted to examining home influences home school connections and the special challenges facing ethnic minorities The engagement perspective also implies greater attention to the role of motivational and affective dimensions in reading development than traditional views of reading Therefore the second section examines motivational theory and its implications for reading engagement with special attention to characteristics of classroom contexts that promote motivation in reading The engagement perspective embraces innovative instructional contexts that address the cognitive social and motivational aspects of reading Thus the third section includes chapters on current directions in promoting children s learning from text on the value of an integrated curriculum in promoting reading engagement and on the challenges of assessing students development as engaged readers Finally the broader conception of reading implied by the engagement perspective requires an expanded array of research approaches sensitive to the complex and interacting contexts in which children develop literacy The concluding section focuses on these important contemporary issues in literacy research and educational research with chapters examining the variety of alternative modes of inquiry gaining prominence in literacy research teacher inquiry and ethical issues of collaboration between university and teacher researchers Intended for university based researchers graduate students and classroom teachers this volume brings together researchers who think about students and their literacy development in school and home communities in distinctly different ways The cooperative and collaborative inquiry presented contributes to a richer understanding of the many factors influencing engaged reading Assessment for Learning Within and Beyond the Classroom Siew Fun Tang,Loshinikarasi Logonnathan,2016-06-29 These conference proceedings focus on Assessment for Learning Within and Beyond the Classroom in recognition of the power of assessment for learning as a way of boosting student performance They explore the breadth depth and quality of the best models and practices strategies lessons learnt and discuss cases of successful implementation of assessment within the classroom and beyond including the virtual space They also provide fertile ground for stimulating and comparing responsive assessment approaches and practices in relatively new areas of assessment such as graduate capability assessment in view of the need for educational institutions to evidence graduate employability Handbook of Reading Research Michael L. Kamil,Peter B. Mosenthal,P. David Pearson,Rebecca Barr,2014-04-08 In Volume III as in Volumes I and II the classic topics of reading are included from vocabulary and comprehension to reading instruction in the classroom and in addition each contributor was asked to include a brief history that chronicles the legacies within each of the volume s many topics However on the whole Volume III is not about tradition Rather it explores the verges of reading research between the time Volume II was published in 1991 and the research conducted after this date The editors identified two broad themes as representing the myriad of verges that have emerged since Volumes I and II were published 1 broadening the definition of reading and 2 broadening the reading research program The particulars of these new themes and topics are addressed Motivation for Reading: Individual, Home, Textual, and Classroom Perspectives Allan Wigfield, John T. Guthrie, 2013-12-16 Based on research from the National Reading Research Center NRRC at the Universities of Georgia and Maryland this issue presents the contributors synthesized work on reading motivation and engagement Articles are devoted to the following topics the general motivation constructs related to reading home influences on reading motivation readers responses to different types of text influences of classroom contexts and types of assessment on children s motivation The State role in youth employment and training programs ,1980 Human Learning Jeanne Ellis Ormrod, 1999 This leading book in learning theories explains principles and theories of human learning in a lucid and engaging fashion and lays out the application of those theories and principles to educational practice Covers many topics throughout the book chaining cognitive aspects of applied behavior analysis constructivist and contextual views of learning effects of verbalization and enactment dichotomies in long term memory mental theories development of expertise effects of alternative forms of assessment self regulated learning and epistemological beliefs self worth theory and internalized motivation Media in Education and Development ,1986 The Power of Interest for Motivation and Engagement K Ann Renninger, Suzanne Hidi, 2015-11-19 The Power of Interest for Motivation and Engagement describes the benefits of interest for people of all ages Using case material as illustrations the volume explains that interest can be supported to develop and that the development of a person s interest is always motivating and results in meaningful engagement This volume is written for people who would like to know more about the power of their interests and how they could develop them students who want to be engaged educators and parents wondering about how to facilitate motivation business people focusing on ways in which they could engage their employees and associates policy makers whose recognition of the power of interest may lead to changes resulting in a new focus supporting interest development for schools out of school activity industry and business and researchers studying learning and motivation It draws on research in cognitive developmental educational and social psychology as well as in the learning sciences and neuroscience to demonstrate that there is power for everyone in leveraging interest for motivation and engagement American Education ,1898 Education for Sustainable Development Chris Shiel, 2007 Career Development and Transition Education for Adolescents with Disabilities Gary M.
