Bonnie Christensen

Pioneers Of The American West:

Pioneers and cowboys of the American West Ingeborg Paul, 1995 Jews of the American West Moses Rischin, John Livingston, 1991 In a series of nine original essays the editors and other leading American historians bring dramatically new perspectives to bear on our understanding of the West its Jews and other Americans both old and new Whether comparing the history of the Jews of the West with the Jewish experience in the older regions of the country or bringing attention to the uniquely local aspects of the western experience the contributors to this landmark volume perceive the West as an increasingly important and vital presence in the nation s history The agrarians of Utah s Clarion and the cureseekers of Denver no less than the boomers of Tucson have been representative Americans Jews and westerners Essays on the role of intermarriage the shared encounter of immigrants and migrants and the response to the founding of the State of Israel by western pioneer families tell us much about the interaction of the West with our American world nation Gold Rushes and Mining Camps of the Early American West Vardis Fisher, Opal Laurel Holmes, Opal Laurel Fisher, 1968 Distributed by the University of Nebraska Press for Caxton Press Vardis Fisher and Opal Laurel Holmes bring together the stories of all of the remarkable men and women and all of the violent contrasts that made up one of the most enthralling chapters in American history Fisher a respected scholar and versatile creative writer devoted three years to the writing of this book

Pioneer Women Linda S. Peavy, Ursula Smith, 1998 Describes the lives of women of various backgrounds as they traveled west established homes worked inside and outside the home and helped to develop settled society The American West, 1989 Magazine of Western History William Williams, J. H. Kennedy, 1891 Red Lodge and the Mythic West Bonnie Christensen, 2002 Tracing the story of Red Lodge from the 1880s to the present Christensen tells how a mining town managed to endure the vagaries of the West s unpredictable extractive industries economy She connects Red Lodge to a myriad of larger events and historical forces to show how national and regional influences have contributed to the development of local identities exploring how and why westerners first rejected and then embraced western images and how ethnicity wilderness and historic preservation became part of the identity that defined one town BOOK JACKET History of Vanderburgh County, Indiana, 1889 Pioneer Jews Harriet Rochlin, Fred Rochlin, 2000 Contributions of the Jewish men and women who helped shape the American frontier Special Method for Literature and History in the Common Schools Charles Alexander McMurtry, 1899 Museums and Historic Sites of the American West Victor J. Danilov, 2002-03-30 Locations including missions trading posts trails landmarks military forts battlefields railroads ghost towns and early Native American villages are featured here along with details of what exhibits and artifacts are on view Pioneer Conservationists of Western America Peter Wild, 1979 Historians and the American West Michael P. Malone, 1983 Annual Report of the American Historical Association American Historical Association, 1893 Narrative and critical history of America, ed. by J. Winsor. [2 issues]. Winsor, 1888 Narrative and Critical History of America Justin Winsor, 1888 A History of the Pioneer Families of Missouri William Smith Bryan, Robert Rose, 1876 Magazine of Western History ,1885

American Book Publishing Record ,2003 Bad Land Pastoralism in Great Plains Fiction Matthew J. C.

Cella, 2010-04-15 At the core of this nuanced book is the question that ecocritics have been debating for decades what is the relationship between aesthetics and activism between art and community By using a pastoral lens to examine ten fictional narratives that chronicle the dialogue between human culture and nonhuman nature on the Great Plains Matthew Cella explores literary treatments of a succession of abrupt cultural transitions from the Euroamerican conquest of the Indian wilderness in the nineteenth century to the Buffalo Commons phenomenon in the twentieth By charting the shifting meaning of land use and biocultural change in the region he posits this bad land the arid West as a crucible for the development of the human imagination Each chapter deals closely with two novels that chronicle the same crisis within the Plains community Cella highlights for example how Willa Cather reconciles her persistent romanticism with a growing disillusionment about the future of rural Nebraska how Tillie Olsen and Frederick Manfred approach the tragedy of the Dust Bowl with strikingly similar visions and how Annie Proulx and Thomas King use the return of the buffalo as the centerpiece of a revised mythology of the Plains as a palimpsest defined by layers of change and response By illuminating these fictional quests for wholeness on the Great Plains Cella leads us to understand the intricate interdependency of people and the places they inhabit Cella uses the term pastoralism in its broadest sense to mean a mode of thinking that probes the relationship between nature and culture a discourse concerned with human engagement material and nonmaterial with the nonhuman community In all ten novels discussed in this book pastoral experience the encounter with the Beautiful leads to a renewed understanding of the integral connection between human and nonhuman communities Propelling this tradition of bad land pastoralism are an underlying faith in the beauty of wholeness that comes from inhabiting a continuously changing biocultural landscape and a recognition of the inevitability of change The power of story and language to shape the direction of that change gives literary pastoralism the potential to support an alternative series of ideals based not on escape but on stewardship community continuity and commitment
