Pirouettes Get No Applause In Goldengrove:

Pirouettes Get No Applause in Goldengrove Leland William Howard,2002-05-10 To the other passengers aboard a transatlantic ocean liner Katharine Monahan might seem like a typical sixteen year old American girl on her way to study in a Junior Year Abroad program What they don't know is that her family physician has given her only a year to live Desperate to realize every dream she's ever had she has left family school and friends in New Orleans to live in the only place she believes she truly belongs Paris France But the Paris of 1986 proves not to be the Paris of Piaf Chevalier and Colette Language and cultural barriers hard as they may be will prove the least of the crises she will face Lonely and alienated in her newly adopted home she finds solace and companionship with a congregation of expatriate American artists and misfits at Lost Generation Bookstore Shadowed by the consciousness of her own mortality and driven by a panic stricken desire to drink up as much experience as she can leads her into a number of bizarre relationships and even dangerous situations which challenge every moral religious and political belief she has ever held but also expose the political and moral hypocrisy of those with whom she is involved Among these is an expatriate American with heavy Marxist Leninist leanings as well as a questionable past a fashion designer with an equally questionable sexuality a wealthy American businessman who knows only how to wield power but is incapable of love and a spoiled art student whose immediate family prove to be a sample of French bourgeoisie life at its worst Strengthened by her ordeals she is suddenly overcome by a tragic new set of circumstances she cannot handle Fleeing to the south of France she is taken into the home of a wealthy Riviera couple whose hospitality is inspired by motives less disinterested than they at first seem A pilgrimage to Lourdes in the company of a kind yet worldly wise young nun seems to promise a way out of her predicament But upon her return to Paris she encounters new pressures which eventually force her to make the most critical decision of her life the choice between the ways of the world or the ways of the spirit

Portrait of Betsy Betsy Howard,Leland William Howard,2011-04-28 She wasn't a dog anyone wanted Bald from the nape of her neck to the tip of her tail she was a scrawny little black dog with little to recommend herself to anyone other than the little tricks she used to perform to amuse people A loser dog But then I wasn't a person anyone wanted either A loser in the eyes of the world A neer do well named Jamie Fairchild who at the age of forty one had tried his luck in many places and invariably had failed For twenty years I had become a stranger even to the members of my own immediate family I didn't want a dog I wasn't even looking for one But God has a way of intervening regardless of our hopes dreams and personal wills not necessarily giving one what one wants but what one needs They told me you needed me Betsy told me Who told you My superior officers she smiled elevating her chin toward heaven Things hasn't been going so well with ya these past twenty years I hear tell ya had big dreams once but you went bust was homeless jes like me fer awhiles I also hear tell them folks of yours aint much of a family But then mine twerent neither I hears ya likes adventure aint afeard of takin risks I aint either I also hear tell ya likes to perform I does too But ya lost your confidence along the way Well Im here to give it back to ya
