Nabokov and His Fiction Julian W. Connolly, 1999-08-05 Published in 1999 to mark the centenary of Vladimir Nabokov's birth this volume brings together the work of eleven of the world's foremost Nabokov scholars offering perspectives on the writer and his fiction Their essays cover a broad range of topics and approaches from close readings of major texts including Invitation of a Beheading and Invitation of a Beheading to penetrating discussions of the significant relationship between Nabokov's personal beliefs and experiences and his art Several of the essays attempt to uncover the artistic principles that underlie the author's literary creations while others seek to place Nabokov's work in a variety of literary and cultural contexts Among these essays are a first glimpse at a little known work The Tragedy of Mr Morn as well as a perspective on Nabokov's most famous novel Lolita The volume as a whole offers valuable insight into Nabokov scholarship

By Authors Possessed Adam Weiner, 1998 By Authors Possessed examines the development of the demonic in key Russian novels from the last two centuries Defining the demonic novel as one that takes as its theme an evil presence incarnated in the protagonists and attributed to the Judeo-Christian Devil Adam Weiner investigates the way the content of such a book can compromise the moral integrity of its narration and its sense of authorship Weiner contends that the theme of demonism increasingly infects the narrative point of view from Gogol's Dead Souls to Dostoevsky's The Devils and Bely's Petersburg until Nabokov exorcised the demonic novel through his fiction and his criticism Starting from the premise that artistic creation has always been enshrouded in a haze of moral dilemma and religious doubt Weiner's study of the demonic novel is an attempt to illuminate the potential ethical perils and aesthetic gains of great art

The Gogol Bulletin, 1987 Holocaust Memory and the Cold War Anna Koch, Stephan Stach, 2024-10-21 Even before World War II had ended survivors historians writers and artists tried to make sense of the Holocaust To do so they relied on belief systems and narratives that as the bloc confrontation intensified were increasingly shaped by Cold War thinking Foregrounding the Cold War's role in shaping Holocaust memory this book highlights how the global conflict between East and West influenced research legal proceedings and collective as well as individual memories of the murder of European Jews Contributions focusing on different parts of the world reveal commonalities differences and entanglements between Eastern and Western memories of the Holocaust Examining Holocaust memory from various disciplinary perspectives the authors highlight the many ways in which scholars writers artists and survivors both countered and contributed to dominant narratives shaped by oppositional ideological stances While such distinct ideological positions often mattered greatly at other times a shared interest in bringing perpetrators to justice commemorating victims and providing testimony to the atrocities committed against Europe's Jews led to cooperation and exchange across the Iron Curtain

Procedures of Resistance Davor Beganović, Zrinka Božić, Andrea Milanko, Ivana Perica, 2024-03-14 This volume explores the state of literary theory today decades after the repeatedly proclaimed end of theory It builds on the idea that theory is historically constituted as it is always becoming something else as Leslie Fiedler claimed in the 1950s arguing that the historical constitution of theory relies on theory's procedural nature In order to assess theory's procedural challenge to the fundamental notions that all the disciplines within an episteme have brought to the fore it addresses these questions What are the procedures theory has relied on Are they a secret to its resistance or is resistance its primary procedure And if so a resistance to what Secondly if resistance were theory s principal vehicle at which point does resistance conceptualized only procedurally as resisting something questioning anything criticizing whatever display hallmarks of a disciplinary closure that must call for new resistances and perhapsfor a fundamentally another kind The book turns to what theory does in order to avoid a partial answer to what theory is     Журнал «Логос» No1/2025 Коллектив авторов,2025-03-11 XX parvenue PDF A4
