Environmental Inequalities Andrew Hurley, 2009-11-30 By examining environmental change through the lens of conflicting social agendas Andrew Hurley uncovers the historical roots of environmental inequality in contemporary urban America Hurley's study focuses on the steel mill community of Gary Indiana a city that was sacrificed like a thousand other American places to industrial priorities in the decades following World War II Although this period witnessed the emergence of a powerful environmental crusade and a resilient quest for equality and social justice among blue collar workers and African Americans such efforts often conflicted with the needs of industry To secure their own interests manufacturers and affluent white suburbanites exploited divisions of race and class and the poor frequently found themselves trapped in deteriorating neighborhoods and exposed to dangerous levels of industrial pollution In telling the story of Gary Hurley reveals liberal capitalism's difficulties in reconciling concerns about social justice and quality of life with the imperatives of economic growth He also shows that the power to mold the urban landscape was intertwined with the ability to govern social relations

Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1979 The Dramatic Vision of August Wilson Sandra Garrett Shannon, 1995 In The Dramatic Vision of August Wilson Sandra Shannon follows the playwright's path through each decade From the outset she considers how he uses poetry the blues Romare Bearden's art and other cultural artifacts to lead him to imagined sites of pain and resignation healing and renewal in the collective memory of black America It is in these places of defeat and victory Shannon demonstrates that Wilson creates drama as he excavates examines and reclaims the past Although Wilson diverts attention away from factual details and focuses on the human costs of family dislocation chronic unemployment or cultural alienation Shannon illustrates how fully the plays are grounded in credible historical contexts from slavery and Emancipation to the aftermath of World War II the 1960s and the Vietnam War Moreover she identifies and analyzes the themes that recur in some plays and branch off in new directions in others including the dislocations that attended black migration to the North and communication gaps between black men and women As she examines each of the plays in Wilson s dramatic history of the African American experience Shannon conveys the broad range of his dramatic vision BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved      Books in Series in the United States R.R.
