Place In Creation Ecological Visions In Science Religion And Economics:

A Place in Creation David G. Hallman,1996      Christianity and Ecological Theology E. M. Conradie,2006-10-01

There has been a proliferation of publications in the field of Christian ecological theology over the last three decades or so. These include a number of recent edited volumes each covering a range of topics and consolidating many of the emerging insights in ecological theology. The call for Christian churches to respond to the environmental crisis has been reiterated numerous times in this vast corpus of literature also in South Africa.

Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions H. S. A. Yahya,2010-10-22 Covering three broader issues biodiversity conservation religious doctrine and environment the book Biodiversity Conservation Ethics in Major Religions is the result of a unique approach. It attempts to initiate scientific discourse through the fabric of religions. Spread across 15 chapters the book covers the essence of 10 religions on biodiversity encompassing a wide range of issues related to conservation. The book promises to be a useful resource for biodiversity students researchers and protected area managers and also for religious scholars who are invited to look at the broader themes of religions beyond theology.

An Ecological Christian Anthropology Ernst M. Conradie,2017-03-02 What is the place and vocation of human beings in the earth community? This is the central question that this contribution towards a Christian ecological anthropology addresses. In ecological theology this question is often answered by the affirmation that 'We are at home on earth'. This affirmation rightly responds to the widespread sense of alienation from nature to the anthropocentrism that pervades much of the Christian tradition and to concerns about the scope of environmental devastation. This book challenges the affirmation that we are at home on earth examining natural suffering anxieties concerning human finitude and especially the pervasiveness of evil. The book investigates contributions to ecological theology South African and African theology reformed theology and contemporary dialogues between theology and the sciences in search of a thoroughly ecological Christian anthropology.

Religion and Globalization Peter Beyer,1994-03-31 In his exploration of the interaction between religion and worldwide social and cultural change the author examines the major theories of global change and discusses the ways in which such change impinges on contemporary religious practice meaning and influence. Beyer explores some of the key issues in understanding the shape of religion today including religion as culture and as social system pure and applied religion privatized and publicly influential religion and liberal versus conservative religions. He goes on to apply these issues to five contemporary illustrative cases: the American Christian Right Liberation Theology movements in Latin America the Islamic Revolution in Iran Zionists in Israel and religious

Ecotheology David G. Hallman,2009-09-01 A new and urgent item on the agenda of churches around the world is the theological and ethical dimensions of the ecological crisis. Highlighted by the United Nations Earth Summit in Brazil the issues covered in this volume raise unavoidable and fundamental questions of the life style and Christian witness in the face of threats to the very survival of humankind and planet Earth. The groundbreaking essays by more than two dozen contributors in this book are divided into five sections biblical witness theological challenges insights from ecofeminism insights from indigenous people and ethical implications Contributors include Jos P M Cunanan Philippines Margot

 Here is a trailblazing book on issues of vital interest to the future of humankind Ecotherapy Healing Ourselves Healing the Earth sheds light on humankind's most serious health challenge ever how to save our precious planet as a clean viable habitat As a guide for therapists health professionals pastoral counselors teachers medical healers and especially parents Ecotherapy Healing Ourselves Healing the Earth highlights readers strategic opportunities to help our endangered human species cope constructively with the unprecedented challenge of saving a healthful planet for future generations Ecotherapy Healing Ourselves Healing the Earth introduces readers to an innovative approach to ecologically grounded personality theory spirituality ecotherapy and education The book shares the author's well developed theories and methods of ecological diagnosis treatment and education so professionals and parents our most influential teachers can rise to the challenge of saving our planet Readers will find that the book helps them accomplish this goal as it explores an expanded ecologically grounded theory of personality development the missing dimension in understanding human identity formation outlines a model for doing ecologically oriented psychotherapy counseling medical healing teaching and parenting describes life saving perspectives for making one's lifestyle more earth caring demonstrates the importance of hope humor and love suggests how these earthy approaches may be utilized in a variety of social contexts and cultures A systematic theory and practice guidebook Ecotherapy Healing Ourselves Healing the Earth fills a wide gap in both the counseling and therapy literature and the ecology literature It offers an innovative model for fulfilling the ecological circle between humans and nature with three action dimensions These are self care by being intentionally nurtured by nature spiritual enrichment by enjoying the transcendent Spirit in nature and responding by nurturing nature more responsibly and lovingly The theories and practical applications presented in the book come together to explore long overlooked issues at the boundary between human health and the health of the natural environment Psychotherapists health professionals and teachers pastoral counselors and other clergy who counsel and teach laypersons who are parents and grandparents and individuals and groups interested in environmental issues will find Ecotherapy Healing Ourselves Healing the Earth essential for approaching the long neglected earthy roots of the total human mind body spirit organism Religion and Society, 1998 Professing the Faith Douglas

John Hall, 1996-11-22 What does it mean to profess the faith as North American Christians at the end of the second millennium What is Christian theology as consciously crafted in light of the distinctive history culture and experience of North America Hall marshalls doctrinal resources for a critical creative response that stresses God's necessary involvement in an unfinished dynamic suffering world      Proceedings Helmut Burkhardt, 1996 This volume on knowledge tools for a sustainable civilization is aimed at product planners and large systems planners      National Council of Churches Review, 1997      Towards a Credible Environmental Ethics for Africa Aidan G. Msafiri, 2007      Canadian Book Review Annual, 1992      Spiritual Values for Earth Community David G. Hallman, 2000 Contemporary threats to the earth and to human life suggest that for many people today the predominant values are consumerism economic globalisation and violence In the face of the potent destructive forces unleashed by such lifestyles this book argues that respecting the earth and building sustainable community call us to live out such spiritual values as gratitude humility sufficiency justice peace love faith and hope After an exposition of how each of these values motivates active engagement for earth community in Christian and other faith traditions the author presents a case study of how individuals and groups are seeking to put that value into practice Suggestions from group study and a bibliography enhance the value of this book for local study groups      Guide to Indian Periodical Literature, 2000      Christianity and Ecology Dieter T. Hessel, Rosemary Radford Ruether, 2000 What can Christianity as a tradition contribute to the struggle to secure the future well being of the earth community This collaborative volume the third in the series on religions of the world and the environment announces that an ecological reformation an eco justice reorientation of Christian theology and ethics is prominent on the ecumenical agenda The authors explore problematic themes that contribute to ecological neglect or abuse and offer constructive insight into and responsive imperatives for ecologically just and socially responsible living      The Publishers Weekly, 1992      New Conversations, 1996      Ecotherapy Howard John Clinebell, 1996 Graduate Theological Education and the Human Experience of Disability examines graduate schools of theology and their limited familiarity with the study of disability and the presence of people with disabilities in particular on their campuses Dubbed a missing note by one theologian this text offers critical research and illuminates new pathways for theologia and practice in the community of faith Reviews of previous literature theology and practices illuminate how people with disabilities have historically been marginalized by the religious community Theologians people with disabilities and researchers offer suggestions for incorporating disability studies into theological education and religious life      Dimensions of Mission in India Joseph Mattam, Sebastian C.
