Place Of Home English Domestic Environments 1914 2000:

The Place of Home Alison Ravetz, Professor Alison Ravetz, R. Turkington, 2013-05-24 A comprehensive and in depth history of the 20th century English home how it has been created and how it works for people It focuses on the various influences bearing on the development of domestic space since 1914 and covers both design and housing policy Current debates from participation to co operative housing are examined and several themes not previously brought together are linked e g urban development house design technology at home women and home social meaning of home Home Alison Blunt, Robyn Dowling, 2006-09-27 Home is a significant geographical and social concept It is not only a three dimensional structure a shelter but it is also a matrix of social relations and has wide symbolic and ideological meanings home can be feelings of belonging or of alienation feelings of home can be stretched across the world connected to a nation or attached to a house the spaces and imaginaries of home are central to the construction of people s identities An essential guide to studying home and domesticity this book locates home within wider traditions of thought It analyzes different sources methods and examples in both historical and contemporary contexts ranging from homes on the American frontier and imperial domesticity in British India to Australian suburbs multicultural London and South Asian diasporic homes The core argument of the book has three main parts that cut across each of its chapters home making identity and belonging homely and unhomely spaces Each chapter includes text boxes and exercises and is well illustrated with cartoons line drawings and photographs Outlining the social relations shaping and being influenced by the geographies of home and the imaginative as well as material importance of home this book will be a valuable reference for students of geography sociology gender studies and those interested in the home and domesticity Home in British Working-Class Fiction Dr Nicola Wilson, 2015-05-28 Home in British Working Class Fiction offers a fresh take on British working class writing that turns away from a masculinist work based understanding of class in favour of home gender domestic labour and the family kitchen Examining key works by Robert Tressell Alan Sillitoe D H Lawrence Buchi Emecheta Pat Barker Jeanette Winterson and James Kelman among many others Nicola Wilson demonstrates the importance of home s role in the making and expression of class feeling and identity Law and Society in England 1750-1950 William Cornish, Stephen Banks, Charles Mitchell, Paul Mitchell, Rebecca Probert, 2019-10-31 Law and Society in England 1750 1950 is an indispensable text for those wishing to study English legal history and to understand the foundations of the modern British state In this new updated edition the authors explore the complex relationship between legal and social change They consider the ways in which those in power themselves imagined and initiated reform and the ways in which they were obliged to respond to demands for change from outside the legal and political classes What emerges is a lively and critical account of the evolution of modern rights and expectations and an engaging study of the formation of contemporary social administrative and legal institutions and ideas and the road that was travelled to create them The book is divided into eight chapters Institutions and Ideas Land Commerce and Industry Labour Relations The Family Poverty and Education Accidents and Crime This extensively referenced analysis of modern social and legal history will be invaluable to students and teachers of English law political science and social history

Home and Community Sandra Costa Santos, Nadia Bertolino, Stephen Hicks, Camilla Lewis, Vanessa May, 2018-04-19 Examining the relationships between architecture home and community in the Claremont Court housing scheme in Edinburgh Home and Community provides a novel perspective on the enabling potential of architecture that encompasses physical spatial relational and temporal phenomena Based on the AHRC funded project Place and Belonging the chapters draw on innovative spatial layouts amid Scottish policymakers concerns of social change in the 1960s to develop theoretical understandings between architecture home and community By approaching the discourse on home and by positioning the home at the confluence of a network of sociocultural identities bound by spatial awareness and design the writers draw on sociological interpretations of cultural negotiation as well as theoretical underpinnings in architectural design In so doing they suggest a reinterpretation of the facilitating role of architecture as sensitive to physical and socio cultural reconstruction Drawn from interviews with residents architectural surveys contextual mapping and other visual methods Home and Community explores home as a construct that is enmeshed with the architectural affordances that the housing scheme represents that is useful to both architecture and sociology students as well as practitioners and urban planners

European Cities, 1890-1930s Helen Elizabeth Meller, 2001 1890 1930 was a formative period in the evolution of the modern town planning movement It was a time when the relationship between social development and the physical environment in all its complexities was being explored and when the prospect of future change could run ahead of the problems of implementation This study highlights the richness and variety of European responses to modernisation by offering a comparative approach to exploring these themes in cities in Britain France Germany Spain and Central Europe Of key importance in the development of European cities during this period was the first world war which accelerated technological changes at the same time as inspiring both nostalgia for the past and a desire to create new ways of urban living For large provincial cities that had grown in the 19th century imagining a new future was the greatest challenge What kind of understanding was necessary to promote effective new developments How could these be implemented in the face of economic social and political change Who made the decisions Answers to these questions must be drawn from a number of directions from the political and administrative structures of nation states from the economic and social history of Europe from the growth of new professional expertise in dealing with urban problems and the international exchange of ideas from the specific histories of cities and from the actions of individuals who were ultimately responsible for creating new possibilities Hauswirtschaft und Wissenschaft ,2006 Architecture and Design For the Family in Britain, 1900-1970 David Jeremiah,2000-11-18 Drawing from archeology history town planning and sociology this study considers family homes and new neighborhoods the products and plans for everyday life and the family lifestyle Information is presented chronologically and in terms of class Chapters focus on specific periods of time between 1918 and 1969 as well as on issues like health comfort and happiness Forty nine illustrations and black and white photographs are featured Distributed by Palgrave Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Town & Country Planning ,1998 Environment and Planning ,2002 Journal of urban planning and design Publishes research in the application of formal methods methods models and theories to spatial problems involving the built environment and the spatial structure of cities and regions Includes the application of computers to planning and design in particular the use of shape grammars artificial intelligence and morphological methods to buildings and towns the use of multimedia and GIS in urban and regional planning and the development of ideas concerning the virtual city Resources of the City Dieter Schott,Bill Luckin,Geneviève Massard-Guilbaud,2005 This volume explores many of the key environmental concerns and issues that are essential to understanding the problems faced by cities in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries Addressing a variety of issues such as clean water supply the provision retention of green space and noise pollution that faced European and North American cities the essays in this volume highlight the common responses as well as the differences that characterized the reactions to these trans national concerns The Writers Directory 2008 Michelle Kazensky,2007-06 Features bibliographical biographical and contact information for living authors worldwide who have at least one English publication Entries include name pseudonyms addresses citizenship birth date specialization career information and a bibliography The Conduct of Philanthropy Patricia L.
