Places In Art:

Art Schools and Place Silvie Jacobi, 2020-06-15 Art education has a definite impact on artists sense of place and their spatial relations Exploring where and why artists choose to locate is the first step in describing an art scene ethnographically This research considers coming to and going through art school as a crucial inter subjective learning environment Artists learn not just to engage with place through spatial and relational practices but gain a sense of mobility and transnational flows in a globalized art world This book is the first time the art school has been studied this way in the nascent field of art geography blending the tool kits of human geography and urban studies This is timely against the backdrop of worldwide university closures of physical space and cost intensive fine art courses as a triumph of managerialism and business case over education This volume helps highlight how investment in this form of education has an important capacity for nurturing art scenes and feeding into the community at large

Arts in Place Cara Courage, 2017-02-03 This interdisciplinary book explores the role of art in placemaking in urban environments analysing how artists and communities use arts to improve their quality of life It explores the concept of social practice placemaking where artists and community members are seen as equal experts in the process Drawing on examples of local level projects from the USA and Europe the book explores the impact of these projects on the people involved on their relationship to the place around them and on city policy and planning practice Case studies include Art Tunnel Smithfield Dublin an outdoor art gallery and community space in an impoverished area of the city The Drawing Shed London a contemporary arts practice operating in housing estates and parks in Walthamstow and Big Car Indianapolis an arts organisation operating across the whole of this Midwest city This book offers a timely contribution bridging the gap between cultural studies and placemaking It will be of interest to scholars students and practitioners working in geography urban studies architecture planning sociology cultural studies and the arts
