The People, Place, and Space Reader Jen Jack Giesekeing, William Mangold, Cindi Katz, Setha Low, Susan Saegert, 2014-04-16 The People Place and Space Reader brings together the writings of scholars designers and activists from a variety of fields to make sense of the makings and meanings of the world we inhabit They help us to understand the relationships between people and the environment at all scales and to consider the active roles individuals groups and social structures play in creating the environments in which people live work and play These readings highlight the ways in which space and place are produced through large and small scale social political and economic practices and offer new ways to think about how people engage the environment in multiple and diverse ways Providing an essential resource for students of urban studies geography sociology and many other areas this book brings together important but till now widely dispersed writings across many inter related disciplines Introductions from the editors precede each section introducing the texts demonstrating their significance and outlining the key issues surrounding the topic A companion website PeoplePlaceSpace.org extends the work even further by providing an on going series of additional reading lists that cover issues ranging from food security to foreclosure psychiatric spaces to the environments of predator animals

Places with a Past Mary Jane Jacob, 1991 Places with a Past Christian Boltanski, 1991 Bound to Appear Huey Copeland, 2013-10-28 At the close of the twentieth century black artists began to figure prominently in the mainstream American art world for the first time Thanks to the social advances of the civil rights movement and the rise of multiculturalism African American artists in the late 1980s and early 90s enjoyed unprecedented access to established institutions of publicity and display Yet in this moment of ostensible freedom black cultural practitioners found themselves turning to the history of slavery Bound to Appear focuses on four of these artists Ren e Green Glenn Ligon Lorna Simpson and Fred Wilson who have dominated and shaped the field of American art over the past two decades through large scale installations that radically departed from prior conventions for representing the enslaved Huey Copeland shows that their projects draw on strategies associated with minimalism conceptualism and institutional critique to position the slave as a vexed figure both subject and object property and person They also engage the visual logic of race in modernity and the challenges negotiated by black subjects in the present As such Copeland argues their work reframes strategies of representation and rethinks how blackness might be imagined and felt long after the end of the peculiar institution The first book to examine in depth these artists engagements with slavery Bound to Appear will leave an indelible mark on modern and contemporary art

Space, Site, Intervention Erika Suderburg, 2000 From Ferdinand Chevel s Palais Ideal 1879 1905 and Simon Rodia s Watts Towers 1921 1954 to Ant Farm s Cadillac Ranch 1974 and Richard Serra s Tilted Arc 1981 installation art has continually crossed boundaries encompassing sculpture architecture performance and visual art Although unique in its power to transform both the site in which a work is constructed and the viewer s experience of being in a place installation art has not received the critical attention accorded other art forms In Space Site Intervention some of today's most prominent art critics curators and artists view installation art as a diverse multifaceted and international art form that challenges institutional assumptions and narrow conceptual frameworks The contributors discuss installation in relation to the genealogy of modern art community and corporate space multimedia cyberspace public and private ritual the gallery and the museum public and private patronage and political action This ambitious volume focuses on issues of class sexuality cultural identity race and gender and highlights a wide range of artists whose work is often marginalized by mainstream art history and criticism Together the essays in Space Site Intervention investigate how installation resonates within modern culture and society as well as its ongoing influence on contemporary visual culture

Dewey for Artists Mary Jane Jacob, 2018-12-10 John Dewey is known as a pragmatic philosopher and progressive architect of American educational reform but some of his most important contributions came in his thinking about art Dewey argued that there is strong social value to be found in art and it is artists who often most challenge our preconceived notions Dewey for Artists shows us how Dewey advocated for an art of democracy Identifying the audience as co creator of a work of art by virtue of their experience he made space for public participation Moreover he believed that societies only become and remain truly democratic if its citizens embrace democracy itself as a creative act and in this he advocated for the social participation of artists Throughout the book Mary Jane Jacob draws on the experiences of contemporary artists who have modeled Dewey's principles within their practices We see how their work springs from deeply held values We see too how carefully considered curatorial practice can address the manifold ways in which aesthetic experience happens and thus enable viewers to find greater meaning and purpose And it is this potential of art for self and social realization Jacob helps us understand that further ensures Dewey's legacy and the culture we live in

Jacob, 1991 The Connoisseur, 1992 Art Papers, 2003 Chris Burden

Chris Burden, Peter Noever, 1996 Burden has a love hate relationship with the machine Suspended from the ceiling of the gallery or presented in glorious isolation the toy like machine becomes an object of fear and worship however ironically a mysterious idol to be propitiated and venerated even if it no longer works Thus art makes the machine benign by turning into a strange toy It masters the machine in a playful Machiavellian act of homage to it Burden implicitly sets the cunning of the artist against the engineer who masterminded the machine implying that the artist can magically undo the human damage the latter unwittingly did with his machine 19 Projects Marie Cieri, MIT List Visual Arts Center, 1996 Boltanski
