Second Thoughts:

Second Thoughts about the Second Coming Joe Reeves, 2011-10 In the book Second Thoughts About The Second Coming teacher author and systems engineer Joe Reeves deals with many aspects of the idea of Jesus second coming that are seldom considered by modern Christians but he does so from the standpoint of asking several critical questions The basic questions he asks and answers in this book are can a book of scripture at some later date come to mean what it never meant Can a scriptural text at a later date come to mean what the author obviously did not intend it to mean to those of his original envisioned recipients to whom he wrote and a meaning that the first recipients simply would not have understood Then based on those answers he asks and answers several questions about Jesus resurrection His resurrected nature and His ascension Then based on the biblical answers to those questions asks and answers the question about whether or not Jesus and the biblical writers predicted a second coming Using those questions and the question of specifically what would those first century Christians have understood about what modern interpreters call Jesus second coming as the basis for study Joe uses his training and experience in systems thinking Bible history cultural anthropology and logic and philosophical realism to formulate a system of thinking that challenges many of the modern assumptions upon which the four most common doctrines about Jesus second coming are based For the person who wishes to learn more about how the first Christians would have used and understood the writings they received about Jesus and His life after His resurrection this book is a must read

First Nations? Second Thoughts Thomas Flanagan, 2000 Dissects the prevailing orthodoxy determining public policy toward Canada's aboriginal peoples an orthodoxy holding that aboriginals belong to nations entitled to specific rights For example Indians and Inuit now have rights to self government immunity from taxation hunting and fishing rights beyond those of other citizens free education housing and medical care Flanagan political science U of Alberta argues that such benefits are actually destructive to the people they are supposed to help and that the only people empowered by such entitlements are a small elite of aboriginal activists politicians administrators middlemen and well connected entrepreneurs Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR
