Secondary Schooling In A Chang:

Youth and the Changing Secondary School H. R. X. D'Aeth, Richard D'Aeth, 1973 Conference report on the relationship between the aspirations of youth and current changes in systems of secondary education discusses how the attitudes and behaviour of young people today differ from those of an earlier generation examines educational development objectives for developing countries considers some pressures for educational reform and describes new outlooks in respect of curriculum development teaching methods school guidance etc Bibliography pp 67 to 72 Conference held in hamburg 1971 November 1 to 5 Changing Schools, Changing Practices Dr. Manfred Lang (Dipl.-Psychologe), 1999 Changing Urban Education Clarence Nathan Stone, 1998 With critical issues like desegregation and funding facing our schools dissatisfaction with public education has reached a new high Teachers decry inadequate resources while critics claim educators are more concerned with job security than effective teaching Though urban education has reached crisis proportions contending players have difficulty agreeing on a common program of action This book tells why Changing Urban Education confronts the prevailing naivete in school reform by examining the factors that shape reinforce or undermine reform efforts Edited by one of the nation's leading urban scholars it examines forces for change and resistance in urban education and proposes that the barrier to reform can only be overcome by understanding how schools fit into the broader political contexts of their cities Much of the problem with our schools lies with the reluctance of educators to recognize the profoundly political character of public education The contributors show how urban political contexts vary widely with factors like racial composition the role of the teachers union and relations between cities and surrounding metropolitan areas Presenting case studies of original field research in Baltimore Chicago Houston and six other urban areas they consider how resistance to desegregation and the concentration of the poor in central urban areas affect education and they suggest how cities can build support for reform through the involvement of business and other community players By demonstrating the complex interrelationship between urban education and politics this book shows schools to be not just places for educating children but also major employers and large spenders of tax dollars It also introduces the concept of civic capacity the ability of educators and non educators to work together on common goals and suggests that this key issue must be addressed before education can be improved Changing Urban Education makes it clear to educators that the outcome of reform efforts depends heavily on their political context as it reminds political scientists that education is a major part of the urban mix While its prognosis is not entirely optimistic it sets forth important guidelines that cannot be ignored if our schools are to successfully prepare children for the future Perspectives on Coping Strategies for Menstrual and Premenstrual Distress Parimal, B.S., Gupta, Kavita, 2023-03-03 Women around the world are dealing with hormone and menstrual problems evidence linking high levels of menstrual distress to harmful health effects continues to emerge Premenstrual or late luteal menstrual misery is quite frequent with many women reporting physiological and psychological symptoms linked with it Additionally hormonal changes during the menstrual cycle have been linked to a variety of unpleasant mental and physical symptoms Further study on the many challenges and health concerns associated with menstrual and premenstrual distress is required to provide women with appropriate support and treatment Perspectives on Coping Strategies for Menstrual and Premenstrual Distress sheds light on the various distress tolerance approaches and coping strategies during menstrual and premenstrual phases and highlights some of the contemporary issues and problems faced by women in today s era Covering key topics such as alternative medicine stressors menstrual health and cognitive coping this reference work is ideal for healthcare professionals nurses policymakers researchers scholars academicians practitioners instructors and students
