Secrecy and Liberty: National Security, Freedom of Expression and Access to Information Joan Fitzpatrick, Piotr Hoffman, Sandra Coliver, Stephen Bowen, 2021-09-27 The tension between national security and freedom of expression and information is both acute and multifaceted Without national security basic human rights are always at risk On the other hand the tendency of governing elites to confuse the life of the nation with their own survival has often resulted in excessive restrictions on expression and information as well as other fundamental rights A proper balance between secrecy and liberty requires a vigilant press and an independent judiciary It also requires greater clarity than currently exists as to how competing rights and interests should be weighed This book addresses that gap Its centerpiece is a set of Principles drafted by a group of international and national law experts many of whom contributed chapters to guide governments courts and international bodies in how to strike a proper balance The Principles have been widely endorsed among others by United Nations experts on freedom of expression and independence of judges and lawyers Sixteen country studies profiling among other states Albania Chile China Egypt France Germany India Israel Japan Norway South Africa South Korea Turkey the United Kingdom the United States and the Federal Republic of Yugoslavia explore the tremendous diversity of national security doctrines and the penal and other measures aimed at suppressing allegedly secret information and speech claimed to be subversive separatist or otherwise dangerous Five chapters examine the cases considered and approaches taken by the UN Human Rights Committee three regional human rights bodies and the European Court of Justice A Commentary draws on the other chapters to support and elucidate the Principles noting where they reflect an existing consensus and the points at which they attempt to elicit a more rights protective approach

Democracy and the Problem of Free Speech Cass R. Sunstein, 1993 Instead we should conceive of free speech first and foremost as a means to achieve civic deliberation and true popular sovereignty Building on James Madison Sunstein proposes a New Deal for the first Amendment a new interpretation that attacks undifferentiated absolutism and replaces it with a vision of responsible public life Sunstein examines broadcasting campaign finance hate speech pornography government art funding commercial speech and the privacy of rape victims He insists that political speech essential for the functioning of any democracy must not only be protected but encouraged If the government say were to use broadcasting markets to encourage attention to public issues and diverse points of view the First Amendment would not stand in the way Nonpolitical speech on the other hand should be less fully protected when it conflicts with other interests and rights such as that of privacy
