Second-Class Citizen Richard Todd Canton, 2013-12 Richard Todd Canton would not have believed you if you told him at the beginning of 2012 what the new year would bring For thirteen years he d worked as a teacher s assistant without incident Even though he was told every day that he was not a teacher it seemed he was quite often a hell of a lot more He was the one who spent the bulk of his time with volatile angry and emotionally challenged students taking everything that was thrown his way and then some He was always happy to do his job the best he could but when a student accused him of improper behavior he was fired arrested and forced to live a nightmare that lasted two years If Canton had been a principal or teacher his ordeal would have been much different but as a teacher s assistant he was treated like a second class citizen by his administration and even his union Fortunately he discovered affection and loyalty from some unexpected people and in unforeseen places

Second-Class Citizenship Eric Mutabazi, Nathanaël Wallenhorst, 2025-05-02 A number of features of the contemporary period are preventing people from exercising their citizenship the acceleration and permanent change in the conditions shaping habitability of planet Earth the digital and techno scientific revolution the rise of religious and political radicalisation the explosion of social inequalities the hegemony of the economic drive to maximise individual interests etc For many individuals citizenship appears to be prevented at the first hurdle What is more though officially or legally it is not possible to speak of second class citizenship so what can be done when the actors themselves use such terminology There is something essential here which must be taken into account as a basis for thinking about the social its inequalities and its injustices The authors of this book propose the notion of second class citizenship as a way of thinking about the scale of contemporary social and political inequalities In view of this observation the contributors outline a movement based on the conviction that education is the repository of the power to prepare for the future How can we learn to build a shared world together and overcome the obstacles that prevent us from doing so How can we learn new habits of relationships marked by responsibility and hospitality The collective reflection in this book lends credence to the way in which players talk about their experience even experiencing differences in their ability to participate in the mechanisms of power This book presents empirical studies and conceptual tools for thinking about the impact of economic factors on the ways in which citizens participate in the decisions of power This book is particularly suited for educators as well as policy makers and researchers

Second-class Citizen Jennifer Lagier, 2000 Poetry Jennifer Lagier's poetry is honest direct and filled with compassion Her love and understanding her anger and realization that not all things are equal create a passion for justice Her words flow effortlessly from one poem to another and her wit and sensibility are always present especially in her appreciation of where she lives and how she lives and with whom she lives Ruth Daigon

Writing Across Cultures Omar Sougou, 2002 This is a timely and comprehensive study combining various critical approaches to the fiction of Buchi Emecheta one of Africa's most illustrious and contentious women writers Feminist Showalter Cixous Kristeva and postcolonial approaches writing back are taken to Emecheta's texts to illuminate the personal political and aesthetic ramifications of the production of this born writer Poststructural programmes of analysis are shown to be less relevant to this writer's fiction than Marxist and Bakhtinian perspectives Emecheta is shown to be a bridge builder between two cultures and two worlds in narratives both challenging and popular characterized by ambiguity ambivalence and double voiced discourse all of which evince the writer's determination to expose imaginatively the colonial heritage of centre periphery conflicts cultural corruption ethnic discrimination gender oppression and the migrant experience in multiracial communities

Aristotle's Politics Richard Kraut, Steven Skultety, 2005-10-12 Aristotle's Politics is widely recognized as one of the classics of the history of political philosophy and like every other such masterpiece it is a work about which there is deep division Many readers of Aristotle are uncertain whether his Politics has any contribution to make to contemporary debates about political life and political theory The essays in this volume aim to address implicitly or explicitly this very question about the relevance of Aristotle's thinking in
