Rank Coup Development:

Seizing Power Naunihal Singh, 2014-07-01 How coups happen and why half of them fail While coups drive a majority of regime changes and are responsible for the overthrow of many democratic governments there has been very little empirical work on the subject Seizing Power develops a new theory of coup dynamics and outcomes drawing on 300 hours of interviews with coup participants and an original dataset of 471 coup attempts worldwide from 1950 to 2000 Naunihal Singh delivers a concise and empirical evaluation arguing that understanding the dynamics of military factions is essential to predicting the success or failure of coups Singh draws on an aspect of game theory known as a coordination game to explain coup dynamics He finds a strong correlation between successful coups and the ability of military actors to project control and the inevitability of success Examining Ghana's multiple coups and the 1991 coup attempt in the USSR Singh shows how military actors project an image of impending victory that is often more powerful than the reality on the ground In addition Singh also identifies three distinct types of coup dynamics each with a different probability of success based on where within the organization each coup originated coups from top military officers coups from the middle ranks and mutinous coups from low level soldiers

Democracy and Economic Openness in an Interconnected System Quan Li, Rafael Reuveny, 2009-07-31 In this book Quan Li and Rafael Reuveny combine the social scientific approach with a broad interdisciplinary scope to address some of the most intriguing and important political economic and environmental issues of our times Their book employs formal and statistical methods to study the interactions of economic globalization democratic governance income inequality economic development military violence and environmental degradation In doing so Li and Reuveny cross multiple disciplinary boundaries engage various academic debates bring the insights from compartmentalized bodies of literature into direct dialogue and uncover policy tradeoffs in a growingly interconnected political economic environmental system They show that growing interconnectedness in the global system increases the demands on national leaders and their advisors academicians and policy makers will need to cross disciplinary boundaries if they seek to better understand and address the policy tradeoffs of even more complex processes than the ones investigated here

State Power, Autarchy, and Political Conquest in Nigerian Federalism Kalu N. Kalu, 2009-07-15 This book offers a comprehensive analysis of the evolutionary path of Nigeria's political development Drawing from the historical themes that existed before and after independence Kalu N Kalu elucidates the challenging role of an oil dependent economy in the struggle for control of state power in the face of political corruption clientelism and market failures

IAF90-080 - IAF90-120, 1990 Print Media and Civil-Military Relations in Greece and Turkey Duygu Ozturk, 2023-07-17 The media in Greece and Turkey have played a crucial role in the political communication in their countries Along with their main functions of monitoring the policies of the government on behalf of the public and providing news the media in these two countries also served as key actors producing meanings through interpretative journalism This study analyzes how Greek and Turkish newspapers

columnists interpreted and framed military takeovers in their countries after the takeovers had happened Refuting arguments in the literature asserting that Greek columnists kept their silence during the military regime due to censorship while there was strong and open support in Turkey among newspaper columnists for the 12 September coup and the subsequent rule this study argues that the situations in both countries were much more complex than these studies have claimed It shows that important similarities existed between Greek and Turkish officers approach to the media in their countries during their respective periods of rule In addition Greek and Turkish columnists shared both similarities and differences in their framings and interpretations of the military s takeover in their countries and the subsequent interregna

Assessment level of political participation among youth. The case of the National University of Lesotho Moeketsi Kali,2020-10-26 Bachelor Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Politics Basics and General grade B language English abstract The purpose of the study was to establish the ways in which this said community gets involved in politics and which mode of involvement is mostly rampant within the NUL youth The study was more determined to explore the diverse ways in which the youth find palatable and find it easy to indulge in as part of political participation process It was also the goal of this research to identify the mode of political participation which majority of the youth at NUL preferred over others. It was of paramount importance to discern how meaningful and fruitful do educated Basotho youth consider politics to be. The study used questionnaires to gather information that would address the objectives of this research paper. It also involved interacting with the youth at the National University of Lesotho to explore their level of political participation. In this regard, their inclination in political events were identified and established. The youth are lacking in ministerial posts and the national assembly of Lesotho. Yet it is common to hear people say that the youth are leaders of tomorrow. The aim of this research was to establish the level of political participation among the National University of Lesotho NUL youth. Data for this study was collected from 15 respondents through a questionnaire. The study found that the youth participate less when it comes to voting in general elections and supporting political parties especially when it comes to enrolling for their membership. On the contrary, the level of political participation among the youth at NUL was found to be high as measured using political activism. Despite their low level of political participation, it was established that the youth at NUL preferred to participate in politics through voting in general elections and buying political party products.

Foreign Relations of 34 African States Curtis Elton Huff, 1974 The Political Economy of China-Myanmar Relations Yizheng Zou, 2023-12-08

The Political Economy of China Myanmar Relations is a comprehensive guide that seeks to fill the gap in research on China Myanmar relations. This book provides readers with a deeper understanding of the long term continuity of China Myanmar relations which has yet to be fully explored by the academic community. The Political Economy of China Myanmar Relations covers a wide range of topics related to the bilateral relationship between China and Myanmar. The book offers an in depth analysis of Chinese investment and aid in Myanmar's economy including infrastructure projects. It also explores how Chinese investment has impacted Myanmar's society and environment. In addition to economic issues, Zou also examines political developments in Myanmar including the peace process with ethnic armed groups and democratic reforms. The way China's interests intersect with these developments and how it has influenced Myanmar's domestic politics is analyzed and the role of other major powers such as India, Japan and the US in shaping China Myanmar relations is discussed. This book is particularly useful for scholars and researchers interested in understanding the complex dynamics of China Myanmar relations. Policymakers and business leaders will also find this book valuable as it offers practical insights into how China's growing influence is shaping Myanmar's political and economic landscape.

The Politics of the Two-level Game Song Min Kim, 1999 Economic Development and Fertility Change Narayanan Swaminathan, 1992 Proceedings of the International Conference on Transnational Migration in the Asia Pacific Region , 1995 Developments in Soviet and Post-Soviet Politics Stephen White, Alex Pravda, Zvi Y. Gitelman, 1992

Developments in Soviet and Post Soviet Politics offers a comprehensively revised and updated edition of the critically acclaimed Developments in Soviet Politics. Rewritten since the resignation of Mikhail Gorbachev, this timely edition focuses on the question of defining and understanding post Soviet politics. The contributors analyze key institutions and policy processes in the new political systems emerging after Gorbachev's resignation and the establishment of the Commonwealth of Independent States. Various topics discussed include changing leadership, party and state institutions, patterns of participation, the legal system, and social, economic, and foreign policymaking. This volume highlights the problems of governability at all levels posed by the development of mass politics, especially in its ethnic and nationalist forms, and concludes by presenting contrasting views on the future of the post-Soviet system and how it can be best understood.

The Effects of Chinese FDI in Southeast Asia Jean-Marc Blanchard, 2005-10-16. This book explores the economic and political effects of Chinese outward foreign direct investment (COFDI) through in-depth and comparative analyses of COFDI in economically and politically diverse Southeast Asian countries. Featuring 21 case studies of COFDI in Indonesia, Thailand, the Philippines, Malaysia, Myanmar, and Cambodia, the book looks at three core effects: namely, employment, technology transfer, and domestic political effects. The case studies also explore the negative social outcomes of Chinese investments in these nations, as well as serious environmental issues linked to COFDI, ranging from the destruction of forests to the loss of biodiversity, to air and noise pollution. Revealing both the negative and positive impacts of COFDI in these Southeast Asian nations, this book will be a valuable resource to policymakers as well as students and scholars of Chinese and Southeast Asian economics and politics.

Security and Development Neclâ Yongaçoğlu Tschirgi, Michael S. Lund, Francesco Mancini, 2010. Although policymakers and practitioners alike have enthusiastically embraced the idea that security and development are interdependent, the precise nature and implications of the dynamic interplay between the two phenomena have been far from clear. The authors of Security and Development: Searching for Critical Connections realistically assess the promise and shortcomings of integrated security-development policies as a strategy for conflict prevention. Addressing cross-cutting issues and also presenting detailed country case studies, they move beyond rhetoric and generalization to make an important contribution to the international conflict prevention agenda.
