National Criminal Justice Thesaurus ,1986 Rape Law Reform Cassia Spohn,Julie Horney,2013-11-27 This book evolved from our interest in rape as feminists and as social scientists As feminists we were concerned about the treatment of rape victims and the attrition in rape cases under traditional rape law and we welcomed legal reforms designed to improve the situation As social scientists we wondered about the efficacy of legal changes aimed at an inherently resistant court system We also were curious about the lack of studies examining the impact of these changes we were particularly surprised to find that no one had attempted to analyze the impact of the reforms in more than one jurisdiction Convinced that untangling the effects of the reforms from the effects of contextual factors required a multijurisdictional study we decided to undertake the project We quickly discovered that evaluating rape law reform in several jurisdictions would be no easy task We had decided that such an evaluation would require monthly data on the outcome of rape cases before and after the reforms were implemented as well as qualitative data on the attitudes of criminal justice officials toward the reforms Because states do not generate monthly data on case outcomes we would have to collect the data ourselves from court records maintained by individual jurisdictions To obtain an adequate number of cases for the time series analysis we would have to select our sites from large urban jurisdictions scattered throughout the United States
