When the World Turned Upside-down Kathleen Starck, 2009 This collection of essays explores post 1989 Western perceptions of Eastern Europe and how these manifest themselves in cultural representations It starts out from findings in the academic field of post socialism claiming that Easterners and Westerners are still very much under the influence of the socialisation they underwent during the Cold War and its aftermath As a consequence the revolutions of 1989 and 1990 and the subsequent opportunities for exchange did not necessarily bring about a reconciliation of the different worldviews It seems the East West divide has not simply vanished with the collapse of socialism The essays included in this book examine in how far the divide is mirrored in the cultural arena They focus on portrayals of post 1989 Eastern European political and social transformations in Western poetry fiction travel writing autobiography theatre and documentaries and investigate the West's fascination with the Wild East and how outsiders view or have experienced Eastern life after the iron curtain was lifted

The Modern American Novel Malcolm Bradbury, 1993 Beginning with the 1890s and the seminal novels of Henry James and Theodore Dreiser this highly acclaimed volume charts the flowering of the American narrative tradition It takes in Hemingway Fitzgerald and Faulkner the emergence of Jewish and African American literatures and the works of Thomas Pynchon Philip Roth and Kurt Vonnegut Updated to consider the most important fiction of the 1980s and early 90s The Modern American Novel is a comprehensive critical history of American literary achievement
