Whittaker, 1990 Focusing on a program Homebuilders that has attracted national attention this book develops implications for family centered curricula in such areas as social policy direct practice program design management practice research theory and prevention      Reinventing Human Services Benjamin Higgins, 2017-07-05 Dissatisfaction with a human services system that is unresponsive stigmatizing and ineffective has led to a ferment of experimentation in recent years Reinventing Human Services examines the historical and economic context of current efforts to reinvent human services showing the urgency and the difficulty of the task It draws on successful examples in Britain Canada and the United States to develop a new paradigm for social work practice one that integrates individual family and community levels of practice and reconceptualizes professional community relations The interdisciplinary team of authors includes scholars researchers and practitioners from the disciplines of economics urban planning communications criminal justice psychology marriage and family therapy education and social work      The Handbook of Social Welfare Management Rino J. Patti, 2000-05-11 A compendium of every aspect of social welfare management and the ultimate reference book this volume introduces the field of social welfare management examines the organizational background of social welfare discusses the various tasks and roles of the social welfare manager and considers specific fields of care such as mental health families and children and older people      Intensive Family Preservation Services Elizabeth M. Tracy, 1991      Family Preservation Services Kathleen Wells, 1991-02 This volume assesses the effectiveness of programmes dating back to the 1970s which sought to reorient child welfare service away from care placements and towards programmes with more emphasis on the family The questions considered include whether children in these programmes are representative of the population of children at risk for out of home placement whether these children improve after being involved in the programmes and what key approaches and features of the programmes are most effective      Innovations in Practice and Service Delivery Across the Lifespan David E. Biegel, Arthur Blum, 1999 This text will introduce practitioners and students to recent strategies and innovations to effectively deal with a range of problems across the lifespan such as homelessness alcohol and drug abuse teen violence and mental illness      Social Treatment James K. Whittaker, Elizabeth M. Tracy, 1989 The book has two principal purposes To provide an introduction to interpersonal helping in the context of social work practice and to develop a conceptual framework for interpersonal helping called social treatment that will enable the social worker and members of other helping professions effectively to use all the various methods and strategies currently practiced The book offers an orderly and systematic way of proceeding through a complex and often confused area of practice in it large issues such as remediation versus prevention are explored along with concrete suggestions for intervention with individuals families and small groups Theoretical systems are considered not merely for the techniques they suggest but also for the values and views of man inherent in them The helping process itself is analyzed from the point of view of the consumer as well as the worker A conceptual framework for practice is developed that allows for systematic eclecticism in theory and technique providing a framework for evaluating and comparing different methods of social treatment The author defines social treatment as an approach to interpersonal helping which utilizes direct and indirect strategies of intervention to aid individuals families and small groups in improving social functioning and coping with social problems Beginning with a discussion of the concept of remediation within the context of the larger contemporary issues of social reform and environmental protection Professor Whittaker proceeds to consider several critical issues in present social work practice such as client advocacy service delivery systems and professionalization Subsequent chapters discuss the multiple roles that social work practitioners perform the major theoretical bases of social treatment the treatment sequence from intake to after care and the full range of helping activities that practitioners undertake indirectly on behalf of their clients The final chapter explores current trends and future directions in social treatment In the Appendix a framework for evaluating methods of interpersonal helping is developed and 21 approaches to social treatment are described and resource bibliographies are provided This book brief lucid and systematic is a major step toward that redefinition and will be invaluable to beginning students and advanced practitioners in social work and in all the other professional and paraprofessional fields engaged in providing human services James K Whittaker is Charles O Cressey endowed professor in the School of Social Work University of Washington He is a frequent consultant on child care training both in the Seattle area and nationally and is a consultant on research and training to the Child Development and Mental Retardation Center University of Washington He has served as director of the Social Welfare Program He is also a founding member of the International Association for Outcome Based Evaluation Research on Family and Children s Services in Italy as well as an associate board member of European Scientific Association for Residential and Foster Care for Children and Adolescents in Belgium

Home-based Services for Troubled Children Ira M. Schwartz, Philip AuClaire, 1995-01-01 There is mounting interest in services to strengthen families and if possible to keep them together preventing unnecessary and costly out of home placements Unfortunately although these programs are proliferating throughout the country many are developing without the benefit of existing historical conceptual and scholarly data information needed to make sound fiscal policy and programmatic decisions This book fills this critical void with a systematic examination of home based services for abused neglected delinquent and emotionally disturbed children and their families With the most authoritative research on the topic to date this book will be of interest to practitioners policymakers and child advocates

The Child Welfare Challenge, Third Edition Peter J. Pecora, James K. Whittaker, Anthony N. Maluccio, Richard P. Barth, Diane DePanfilis, 2009 The volume emphasizes families and children whose primary recourse to services has been through publicly funded child welfare agencies The book considers historical areas of service foster care and adoptions in home family centered services child protective services and residential services where social work has an important role Authors also address how child welfare programs interface with the many fields of practice in which child and family services are provided or that involve substantial numbers of social work programs such as services to adolescent parents child mental health education and juvenile justice agencies This new edition will continue to serve as a fundamental introduction for new practitioners as well as summary of recent developments for experienced policymakers administrators and practitioners Peter J Pecora is managing director of research services for the Casey Family Programs and professor in the School of Social Work at the University of Washington He is the author of numerous professional articles and books James K Whittaker is Charles O Cressey endowed professor in the School of Social Work University of Washington He is a frequent consultant on family support and group care interventions He is the series editor of Modern Applications of Social Work for Transaction Publishers Anthony N Maluccio is Professor Emeritus Graduate School of Social Work University of Connecticut Richard P Barth is Professor and Dean School of Social Work University of Maryland Diane DePanfilis is Professor and Associate Dean School of Work University of Maryland Robert D Plotnick is Professor Daniel Evans School of Public Affairs University of Washington

Child Welfare: Issues in child welfare Nick Frost, 2005 This collection focuses on child welfare in its specific sense welfare and social interventions with children and young people undertaken by State bodies or NGO s The term child welfare is deployed differently in diverse international settings In the United Kingdom child welfare tends to refer to individualised programmes for children who have experienced problems in their lives In India to take a contrasting example it can also refer to major housing and nutrition programmes This collection takes an inclusive approach to international perspectives The collection is completed by a new general introduction by the editor individual volume introductions and a full index Titles also available in this series include Medical Sociology November 2004 4 Volumes 495 and the forthcoming collection Health Care Systems 2005 3 Volumes c 395
